yesterday beneath his fifth floor

Anyone old enough to remember when strong silent men were really slient on the screen will feel a nostalgic delight in seeing "The Good Old Days" opening Wednesday at the Sigma theatre, and those too young to remember William S. Hart will scream with laughter at the movies of yesteryear.

Such museum pieces as "The Great Train Robbery," "Ten Nights in a Rarroom" and the Dempsey-Willard championship fight pictures are to be revived on the screen. The pure-as-snow heroine, the tough but strong hero who shoots straight, but only in the cause of justice, the black-hearted villain amuse the sophisticates of anteed to satisfy your wants in screen entertainment. "Meet Me in St. Louis, Louie"that's one of the popular songs of the day in the picture "Meet Me in St. Louis," currently playing at the Ohio theatre. The picture which has been so widely publicized can setually stand the maximum. Adequate adjectives to describe the picture cannot come fast enough to this reviewer at this time but, for one thing, the film has "IT" the 1945 era and this filmful of old-

in all sense of the word. "Tonight and Every Night" currently showing at the Quilna theatre is another "comph" picture and it stars none other than Rita Hayworth, with lovely Janet Blair and Lee Bowman. The story is of the German blitz of London and how a heroic little group of show people kept things active by putting on shows for London citizens.

The State theatre is keeping things moving, but quickly, with the picture "Hollywood Canteen." The picture has a cast that would make any director in Hollywood drool with joy to see. Namely the roster has Robert Hutton, Joan Leslie, Dane Clark, Bette Davis, John Garfield, Joan Crawford, Paul Henreid and many others. Where there's a Marine, there's thumbtack-where there's a thumbtack, there's a pin-up girlwhere there's a pin up girl-that's Betty Grable. Now you can see why those hard hitting Marines choose (or rather chose, before she married Harry James) Betty Grable for their pin up girl. The picture "Pin Up Girl" starring Betty Grable is now starring at the Lyric

TWO HARDIN-CO MEN PRISONERS

KENTON, Feb. 13--Two Hardin-co servicemen are believed prisoners of the German government, it was learned in a letter from one of them to his parents. They are: S. Sgt. Mack E. Firestone, 26, Kenton, and Sgt. Lloyd Wright Runser, 24, of Ada. They both officially have been reported missing.

In a letter from Sgt. Firestone to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Firestone, he did not say he was a prisoner, but the letter was inscribed in many German words. He said he was in good health and mentioned "I met Lloyd Runser the other day." The letter was written sometime near Christmas. Sgt. Runser is the son of Mr.

and Mrs. Wright Runser of Ada. It is the first word of either of the boys since they were reported missing.
