Facts In Movies Answering Demands Of Audiences

Audiences today want facts as well as fiction in their screen entertainment, according to a recent country-wide poll. The folks at home are anxious to be shown just how the war is being won and how the boys in uniform are prospering in their new way of life.

Informative motion pictures are currently having a vogue and they have never before achieved, particularly those dealing in the training of American soldiers for eventual action. In addition to being engrossing entertainment, the picture "Mr. Winkle Goes to War" currently showing at the Lyric theatre, furnishes civilians with factual information on Army life and procedure.

An unexpected crisis in the lives of a quiet professor and a beautiful woman is strikingly developed in "Woman in the Window" now showing at the Ohio theatre. Hollywood never thought the day would come when its celebrated cornflakes, used for snow, would look as if they had been nibbled at-but the day has come. The old movie snowflake just isn't what it used to be. The sad truth came to light in the filming of the Betty Smith best-seller "A Tree Grows In Brooklyn" currently showing at the Quilna theatre.

All the thrills and tense situations which make a best-seller in the mystery field have been brought to the screen in the picture "Murder, My Sweet" now paying at the Sigma theatre, and starring Dick Powell, Claire Trevor and Anne Shirley.

"To Have and Have Not," one of the latest adventure films now showing at the State theatre, is the story of the men and women who live between the horned fingers of the Gestapo on the island of Martinique. Humphrey Bogart plays the male lead while Lauren Bacall, a newcomer to the filmcity, plays his co-star.
