 OPA to Stop Excess Charges for Repairs WASFIINGTON---(U.R)---The Of-fice of Price Administration (OPA) intends to put a stop to overcharges for repairs on house-hold appliances, automobiles, and form machiners. Beginning Mar. 19, regional OPA offices may require repair shops charging an hourly rate to do two things: Give customers detailed bills on the exact amount of time and materials used; and keep detailed time records themselves. Whenever an "unreasonable dis-crepancy" is found between the two, OPA said, "appropriate en-forcement measures will be taken.' Repair prices are frozen at the bighest March, 1942, levels. Agricultural laborers returning to Mexico after working in the United States are reported to be preparing to the American methods to Mexican farmers.
