

Timely Picture, 'I'll Be Seeing You,' To Open At Ohio Friday

Based on the timely theme enveloping the rebirth of hope and the recapturing of lost dreams thru a great love, 'I'll Be Seeing You' which will open Friday at the Ohio theatre is a poignant and dramatic film of American life.

The love-story of the great composer, Frederic Chopin, and the great novelist, feminist and heart-breaker, Madame George Sand, is one of the most tempestuous and emotional in history.

With its action set against the dramatic background of the training camps and the fighting in France, the picture 'I'll Be Seeing You' is designed to give a true picture of the Women's Army Corps from basic training thru the Officers Candidate School. Each of the stars wears official G.I. uniforms and equipment of the kind given every woman who joins the Corps.

Laughs and thrills combine to give plenty of entertainment in the newest comedy drama, 'Shadow of Suspicion' opening Thursday at the Lyric theatre.

Virtually all Atlantic hurricanes occur north of the equator.
