

Monty Woolley, Gracie Fields Together In Quilna Movie

They're at it again! Monty Woolley and Gracie Fields, the fabulous scream-team that sent laugh records toppling in "Holy Matrimony," are back of the screen in their newest hilarity hit, "Molly and Me," now showing at the Quilna theatre.

Based on the courageous exploits of the brave aviators who battled the Japs over the skies of China in their rugged Curtis P-40's, the stirring film drama about the Flying Tigers, "God Is My Co-Pilot," is making its debut at the Ohio theatre Friday.

It's not often that a privilege is extended to movie-going folks but when popular demand is so heavy that a hold-over must be made, a theatre ready to comply with the public's demand is the Signa. Opening Friday at this theatre is "I'll Be Seeing You" which has been held over for a few more days for those who haven't seen the film.

"This Man's Navy" the story of the lighter-than-air service of the United States Navy is a picture that is a picture. The movie starring Wallace Beery, Tom Drake and Jan Clayton is now playing at the State theatre.

Predicaments and more predicaments occur in the movie "Detective Kitty O'Day" now showing at the Lyric theatre. Opening Sunday will be two hits "Three On a Trail" and "Slightly Terrific."

MINSTER MAN WOUNDED
MINSTER Apr. 20—Sgt. Richard Schwietzman, 26, Minster was wounded recently in Germany and is under treatment in a hospital in France according to a letter received from the soldier by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Al Schwietzman.

In less than 20 years from birth, air transportation in the United States and by United States companies in foreign fields, attained a stature dwarfing the combined commercial air transport activities of the rest of the world.
