

Horse-Racing Sequences Feature Ohio Theatre Film

Climaxed by some of the most thrilling horse-racing sequences ever caught by Hollywood cameras, the film "National Velvet" opens Friday at the Ohio theatre providing excitement and fascinating entertainment from beginning to end.

The story which is based on Lindy Ward's best-selling novel about a girl who tries to win one of the celebrated Grand National at Aintree, England, emerges as a heart-warming, moving document which will be enjoyed by the entire family.

Coming back to the Quilna theatre for a return showing at popular prices is Franz Werfel's "Song of Bernadette" which stars the Academy Award winner, Jennifer Jones. It's a truly outstanding picture with a cast of more than 1,000 people.

Now it can be told—the man who did just as much as Adolf Hitler is depicted on the screen of the Sigma theatre and all things which are seen are supposed to be authentic. "Enemy of Women" stars Paul Andou as Dr. Paul Joseph Gockel, minister of propaganda in the Reich.

"The Merry Monahans" with Jack Oakie, Donald O'Connor and Peggy Ryan is a riot of fun and the picture is currently showing at the State theatre. If you want to know what they do, the question what don't they do can probably be answered more easily.

Carrying with it the theme of suspense is the movie "Bermuda Mystery" which stars Ann Rutherford and Preston Foster. The picture is currently showing at the Lyric theatre.

America's Town Meeting Features Peace Parley

Three members of the United States delegation to the United Nations conference in San Francisco will be heard as guest speakers, when three leading network news commentators discuss the question, "Can We Build a Lasting Peace Now?" in an "America's Town Meeting" broadcast from San Francisco, Thursday at 7:30 p. m., Lima time, over Station WJZ. H. V. Kallenborn, dean of radio news commentators; Raymond Swing, radio news analyst; and William L. Shurer, radio commentator and author of "Berlin Diary," will debate the question and other expert viewpoints will be added by the guest speakers, Joseph C. Grew, under secretary of state; Com. Harold E. Stassen, former governor of Minnesota; and Sen. Tom Connally (D-Tex.), chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations committee. George V. Denny, Jr., will preside as moderator.

The fuel that powers our great fleets of bombers and fighters, 100-octane gasoline, is the subject of the drama on "Weapons for Victory," the Army Service Forces series, on Thursday at 4:30 p. m., over Station WABC. A few years ago, 100-octane gasoline represented the ultimate in gasoline, a fuel which represented 100 per cent perfection and could not be improved. Today, thanks to new petroleum cracking processes, the gasoline which once was a laboratory curiosity is produced in enormous quantities, giving our airplanes and other gasoline-powered equipment speed, range and power beyond anything attainable by the enemy.
