

Thrilling Air Story, 'Wing And A Prayer,' At Lyric

Scenes of battle never shown in a Hollywood film will be revealed in "Wing And a Prayer" which opens Monday at the Lyric theatre starring Don Ameche, Dana Andrews, and William Eythe.

A peaceful English farmyard filled a large stage in Hollywood for a scene in "National Velvet" the picture currently showing at the Ohio theatre. Elizabeth Taylor, Jackie Jenkins, Juanita Quigley, the children in the story, and star Mickey Rooney fill the cast.

Never has Hollywood given a greater demonstration of the magic of make-believe than in its true-to-detail settings for the famous Grotto of Massabielle, complete with rushing mountain stream, forest, and towering peaks of the Pyrenees, as they actually appear in the little French village of Lourdes in Fritz Werfel's "The Song of Bernadette," which is now showing at the Quilna theatre.

A picture so important it was produced under the personal supervision of the chief of a studio himself—B. G. DeSylva—plus the talents of producer-director Sam Wood, the man who has made so many hit pictures—a picture so important, it took almost three years to prepare is currently playing at the Sigma theatre. It is the technicolor screen drama, "For Whom the Bell Tolls."

Snite Returns From Florida

CHICAGO, Apr. 30—(INS)—Frederick B. Snite Jr., the "Boiler Kid" who is in his tenth year as an iron lung patient, was today in suburban River Forest at home after his annual winter visit to Florida.

Tanned and "feeling fine," young Snite will spend a month at his home before continuing his travels. Since he was afflicted with infantile paralysis on a visit to China in 1936, Snite has traveled thousands of miles while confined to an iron lung.

His next trip will be to the family lodge on Lake Minocqua, Wis., where he will spend the summer. He will be accompanied by his wife, Teresa, two daughters, Teresa Marie, 5, and Catherine Bernadette, 20 months, and a staff of nurses and orderlies.

Columbus Man To Face Death

COLUMBUS, Apr. 30—(INS)—Elder Johnson, 53, of Columbus, today awaited sentence of death for the slaying of Moses Terry, 59, last Jan. 20.

An all-woman jury, deliberating only 90 minutes, found Johnson guilty of first degree murder, and failing to recommend mercy, made a death sentence mandatory. Johnson, an ex-convict, had admitted striking Terry with a poker at the plant of the Federal Chemical Co.

Vox Pop Show To Be Held At San Francisco Conference

Vox Pop broadcastists from San Francisco, during the United Nations Conference on International Organization, Monday, at 8 p. m. over WABC. Delegates to the Security Conference from participating nations will be interviewed by Parks Johnson and Warren Hull on this historic radio program.

Jessyca Russell, noted magazine writer, and Jack Garver, amusement editor of the United Press, who recently became Mr. and Mrs. are on hand for the "Blind Date" broadcast Monday at 8:30 p. m. over Station WJZ, when they will accompany lucky couples to New York's famous Stark club for a free evening's fun. Glamour girls of the radio, stage and fashion worlds share the date, with visiting GPs, Arlene Francis is mistress-of-ceremonies, and Tom Walker produces the show.

Woman Denies Ration Charge

PAULDING, O., Apr. 30—(INS)—Mrs. Albert L. Beatty, clerk at the Paulding-co war price and rationing board, today denied a nation-wide radio broadcast charge made by Gordon Graham that a Paulding-co soldier, just returned from German prison camp, was denied gas and food rations.

Graham charged that Sgt. Bud Friend, of Antwerp in Paulding-co, had returned 43 pounds overweight and that he was denied sufficient coupons and points by the Paulding-co ration board.

Mrs. Beatty, whose husband is a soldier stationed in Germany, said Friend requested gas and food rations from her on Apr. 29. He was immediately given 30 gallons of gas and informed that the gasoline panel at its next regular meeting would have to improve the additional mileage requested. Mrs. Beatty said his request was approved.

Mrs. Beatty said food stamps were mailed the soldier on Apr. 29, but that thru an oversight, he was issued points for 60 meals instead of 180. The oversight, she said, was corrected and Sgt. Friend should have the extra food rations by now.
