

'Diamond Horseshoe' Tops Quilna Theatre Billing

When news came that the Quilna theatre was opening with "Billy Rose's Diamond Horseshoe" Wednesday, no doubt, film-lovers all over Lima rejoiced.

The picture is set against the gay and glittering background of one of the world's largest and most famous restaurants, and tells a story that carries a deep emotional appeal.

At the Ohio theatre is a picture which is certain to make you scream with joy to know that it has finally arrived.

Coming to an end, as all good things usually do, is the stay of "Between Two Women" starring Van Johnson and currently showing at the Sigma theatre.

If it's cold chills you want, you'll find plenty of them at the State theatre where "Dark Waters" starring Merle Oberon and featuring Franchot Tone and Thomas Mitchell now is showing.

Of course, we've all heard of Wild Bill Hickock and the many notches on his gun which represented the men he had killed but there is another man who bears the name "Wild Bill" but isn't as well known for such a thing.

Unions Ask WLB To End Control Of Newspapers

INDIANAPOLIS, May 18—The board of governors of the International Allied Printing Trades-union has decided to request the War Labor Board to release the entire daily newspaper industry from further WLB regulation.

"In view of the fact that the daily newspaper industry is not governed by OPA ceiling prices and has increased its revenue through increased advertising rates and increased prices of papers, and because printing trade unions have severely suffered thru WLB restriction on wages, the International Allied Printing Trades-union, composed of the five international printing trades unions, hereby requests the WLB to immediately rule that the daily newspaper industry shall not further be governed by WLB wage regulations."
