

Dillinger's 14-Month Reign Of Terror Keyed Up Mid-West

Death accompanied him wherever he went. The mere rumor that he was in Chicago put the citizens of America's second largest city in a panic. His name was John Dillinger.

The shocking story of how one man and his henchmen blasted the Middle West with a reign of terror for 14 months is told in the gripping production of "Dillinger" now showing at the Quilna theatre. Lawrence Tierney, the screen's newest tough guy, is featured in the title role.

Hailed as "the most beautiful love story ever told," one of Hollywood's newest offerings, "The Enchanted Cottage," deals with the romance between a returned war veteran and an unpopular girl who turn to one another because of mutual handicaps. The film is currently featured at the Ohio theatre.

One of the most colorful adventure romances to come out of Hollywood will blaze across the screen of the Sigma theatre Saturday when "Sudan" bows into town. Filmed in technicolor, with the intriguing locale obvious in the title, "Sudan" co-stars Maria Montez, Jon Hall and Turhan Bey, and features an excellent supporting cast including Andy Devine, George Zucco, George Lynn and others.

The picture now at the Lyric theatre has a billing coming up Sunday that carries a very sinister sound. The two features coming up are "Over My Dead Body" and "Frontier Vengeance"—so if it's

Your GI Rights

By DOUGLAS LARSEN
WASHINGTON, June 7—Here are some general questions on problems of veterans and servicemen:

Q. I have been told that if I go to my former employer as soon as I am released from the army and ask for a leave of absence that it is the same as asking to be reinstated in my old job. In this way I could have time to try a couple of other things and if they didn't turn out go back and claim my old job back. Is this true?

A. No. A recent case in the United States District Court has decided that very issue. The court ruled that a request for a leave of absence does not constitute a request for reinstatement. You must apply for reinstatement within 90 days of discharge and be ready to resume your duties at once. Your employer, however, might agree to give you more time to look around.

Q. How many theatres of operation are there which entitle men to a ribbon decoration?

A. There are three ribbons for service in theatres of operation. One is for the American theatre for service outside the continental limits of the U. S., one for the Asiatic-Pacific theatre and one for the European-African-Middle Eastern theatre. There is a ribbon for men who began active service during the prewar emergency, and two others for action in defense or liberation of the Philippines.

Q. I was discharged from the army two months ago and immediately went back to my old job. Some of the new personnel there made life miserable for me and I quit and got another job. Since then I've heard that the workers who were making all the trouble were fired. It is still less than the 90 days. Can I get my job back again?

A. Once you quit a job voluntarily into which you were reinstated you have no more legal right to that job. The employer can hire you back if he wants to do so.

11-Day Transit Strike Is Ended

CINCINNATI, June 8—(AP)—Some 350 employes of the Cincinnati, Newport and Covington Railway Co. ended their 11-day walkout today, giving thousands of nearby Northern Kentucky commuters their first regular service in 12 days.

Covington and other Northern Kentucky communities of the greater Cincinnati area have been without regular bus and street car service since May 28.

Contempt Prisoner Denied Court Writ

The Supreme Court of Ohio recently denied a writ of habeas corpus to Dale L. Cattell, Lima Route 2, when he sought his release from the Allen-co jail thru the application.

Cattell was sentenced to the jail for 15 days by Judge W. T. Copeland of Wapakoneta in connection with contempt of court proceedings that grew out of a divorce action heard by the specially-assigned justice.

Injunction Threat Over Cheese Firm

Sanitary conditions at the Contostoga Cream and Cheese Manufacturing Co. of Lima must be corrected before June 30 or a federal court injunction will be imposed prohibiting production at the plant.

Judge Frank L. Kloeb handed down this edict Thursday in the U. S. District Court at Toledo. He imposed the injunction but withheld its application pending correction of the conditions, according to news dispatches from Toledo.

The ruling was given after officials of the company pleaded guilty to charges of violating the pure food laws.
