

War Films Spotlight Local Theatre Bills

Swinging back as does the pendulum, the films on the screens of the local theatres this Saturday went back to war pictures. Mixed with a musical comedy and a film which has mystery and intrigue, theatre-goers can take their "pick" of the movie crop.

It goes without saying that any one picture employing the individual evil-doings of either Humphrey Bogart or Sydney Greenstreet is bound to attain the maximum in suspense and first-rate, action-packed excitement. When the services of these two are combined—as they are in "Conflict," currently showing at the Ohio theatre—then the total effect of good, breathtaking entertainment is artfully doubled.

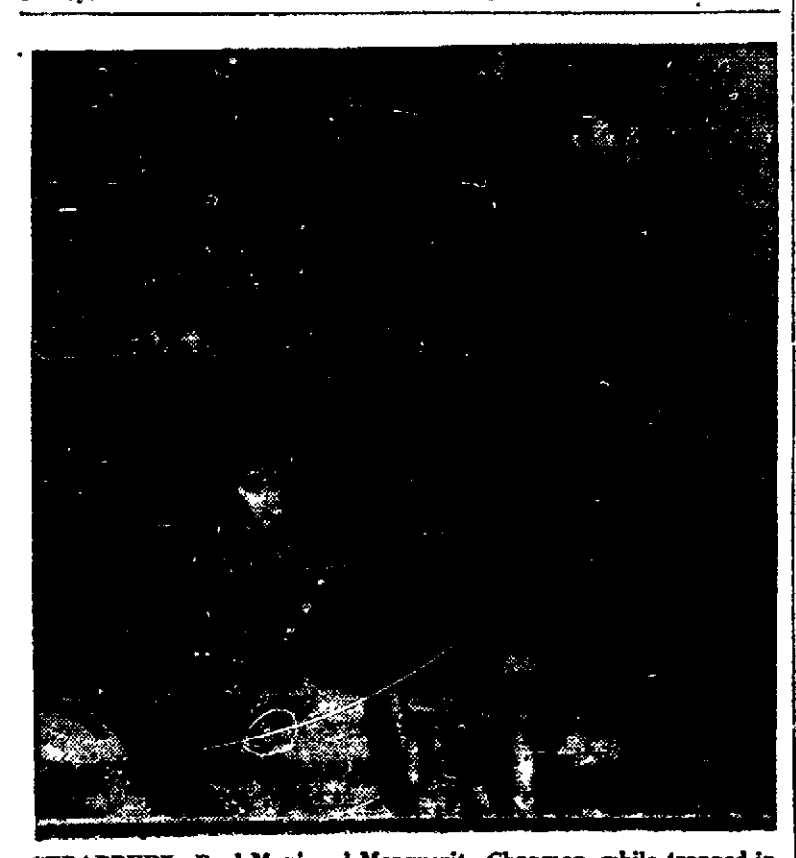

Paul Muni is in another outstanding characterization and another hit picture. As Kulkov, a Russian paratrooper in the thrilling drama, "Counter-Attack," now starring this great actor at the Quilna theatre, Muni is offering his many film fans a portrayal that is the powerful and dramatic equal to anything in his past.

Packed with thundering action and crammed with tense moments of excitement, the latest adventure drama, "Escape In The Desert," is currently showing at the Sigma theatre. Featuring a cast of players which includes Philip Dorn, Helmut Dantine, Jean Sullivan, Alan Hale, Irene Manning and Samuel S. Hinds, the film is a rousing combination of mystery, adventure and romance.

For hilarity of such that you have never seen, you won't want to miss "Bring On The Girls," opening Sunday at the State theatre and starring Sonny Tufts, Eddie Bracken and the girl who created a new hair style for girls all over the country, Veronica Lake. Sharing the billing is the film "High Powered."

If you like westerns, you're certain to find what you want at the Lyric theatre Sunday when "Lone Star Ranger" opens. The films now showing are "Mark of the Whistler" with Richard Dix and "Fear of Death" with Basil Rathbone and Nigel Bruce.

Photographic surveys made from airplanes have been found beneficial in speeding up construction and laying of long-distance telephone lines between distant points. The air surveys are made in less time and show more of the general topography of the area to be covered than a ground survey.

"TRAPPED"—Paul Muni and Marguerite Chapman, while trapped in a bombed cellar during a Russian paratroop raid on enemy-held territory in the suspenseful drama, "Counter-Attack," currently playing at the Quilna theatre, are aided by Rudolph Anders, a German turned friendly.

ENLISTS BARBERS IN DRIVE FOR MANPOWER

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., June 30.—(UP)—Some time ago the Minneapolis office of the War Manpower Commission began utilizing the well-known talkativeness of the barber to help recruit labor. It sent regular bulletins on labor shortages to barbers on the theory that the barber would pass on the information while giving a shave or haircut.

Success of the plan prompted the national WMC to recommend its adoption by all WMC field offices.

It's Circus Day For Lima Kiddies And Their Parents

Saturday is the day youngsters and their folks have been anticipating. The circus is in town. Toiling with efficiency born of experience gained barnstorming the country, roustabouts and the Cole Brothers Combined Circus have rigged up the big-top, all the animals have been moved into place—many of them complainingly—and acrobats, tight-wire performers and clowns have finished flexing their muscles, tuning up for shows at 3 and 8 p. m.

Rehearsals would be superfluous. Everyone has his job down pat. The opening spectacle, the Caliph of Bagdad, will introduce scores of beautiful girls in an Oriental atmosphere. Con Colleano, the circus' stellar attraction among 400 performers, is prepared to demonstrate his dare-devil forward somersault, feet to feet, on a taut wire suspended high over the arena.

Other standouts are the Orantos, high-perch acrobats; Ruth Nelson, bareback rider; the Slayman-Alli troupe; the Caudillo sisters, who do their stunts on a slack wire; Cyse O'Dell, aerial gymnast; the Flying Thrillers, and the Giustino Loyal troupe of bareback riders.

Foolishness is in the hands of Otto Griebling and his "50 famous clowns," who are scheduled to cavort through the two performances at the Bellefontaine-av show grounds.

The Cole Brothers Circus—freaks, elephants, mules, horses and all—rumbled into the Nickel Plate railroad terminal here from Findlay early Saturday morning. Painted red and yellow, the boxcars with their cargo of animals and oddities drew "ah's" and "oh's" from kiddies who made it their business to get up with the sun to catch a free glimpse of the cir-

Show Dissects Ailing Vet's Progress In Re-Orientation

The problem of the veteran who returns home with an illness which takes time to cure is dramatized on the "Assignment Home" program, produced by the Army Service Forces, on Saturday at 4:30 p. m. over Station WABC. The story deals with an ailing veteran who resents seeing everyone else out and doing things first, and wonders if there'll be anything left for him when he's ready.

"There's a New Moon Over My Shoulder," a new love tune written especially for Roy Acuff, is featured by the star of the "Grand Ole Opry" show on Saturday at 10:30 p. m. over Station WEAF. His other solo is a sentimental hymn, "Shake My Mother's Hand For Me." Other tuneful highspots include "I Love You Best of All" and "Barbara Allen," harmonized by the Old Hickory Singers; Mack McGarr, his mandolin and "Black and White Rag;" "K-C Whistle
