Disney's "Three Caballeros" On Intoxicating Laugh-Fest

Out of the whimsical world of Walt Disney comes the fastest, happiest, musically-intoxicating comedy show of the day. For real fun, this romantic carnival of events, opening at the State theatre Thursday under the title of "The Three Caballeros," will send even former Disney records tumbling to earth before an onslaught of mirth, eye-arresting technicolor and action.

The picture contains everything you've ever wanted to sec in a Disney film-plus a few surprises. Sixteen top musical numbers by Latin America's three most popular composers pace the show. There are beautiful senoritas to decorate it, while Disney stars and old favorites spin out a story of "The Three Caballeros" and their amorous adventures.

The dye was cast, perhaps even before high authorities knew about it and because of this, Gen. MacArthur made the statement, "we'll be back." We went back and captured and killed the enemy who had boasted they would dictate the peace from the White House. In "Back To Bataan," currently starring John Wayne at the Ohio theatre, the Americans coming back and freeing the oppressed people of Bataan Peninsula are pictured in all their hero-

Fun, fun and more fun can be found at the Quilna theatre where Fred MacMurray is now playing in "Where Do We Go From Here" -the zany comedy of a genie who got his dates mixed up. Featured with him is none other than the lovely Joan Leslie and the vivacious June Haver.
