No vote has been taken to find the answer to that question, but if people were asked I believe that the rose would get the most votes. Other flowers also would have he tulin the control of the state of Narci and Narc support. I should expect votes for the tulip, the sweet pea, the violet, the lotus, the lilac and many others. Yet it is likely that roses would rank first. This we may since that time, gardeners have bridge in part to the same transfer or the first time, and the same transfer or the support of the same transfer or the sam

There are three main kinds of roses—those which grow on bushes, those which climb, and those which creep on the ground. Some roses are excellent climbers. If at Cottage Grove roses are excellent climbers. If given proper support, they will spread over a stone wall, or the outside of a cottage. Others climb poles, and have the special name of "pillar roses." Still others will creep, or ramble, over a wide stretch of ground with the passing of vears.
