

Films Deviate From Diet Of War Themes

A checkup of the theatre calendar for the week-end shows that movies now playing, along with those coming up Sunday, have deviated quite a bit from the general theme of war on which many of them have been based during the last few years.

At the Ohio theatre you'll find the film "Along Came Jones," with Gary Cooper and Loretta Young in the co-starring roles. When a man who can't hit the side of a barn with his six-gun sets out to pose as a redoubtable outlaw, things are likely to happen, and they do in the picture.

In technicolor at the Quilna theatre is "A Thousand and One Nights" with Cornel Wilde in the leading role as Aladdin. It all begins, as you would suspect, with Aladdin, the vagabond singer, trying to marry the Sultan's beautiful daughter. When a genie steps in, things really begin to happen. Many people like their physicians because they are well-schooled in medicine, others like them because of their so-called "bedside manner." That is the name of the new film currently showing at the Sigma theatre, starring John Carroll and Ruth Hussey. Sharing the billing is "Jungle Captive."

Humphrey Bogart is back in the swing of things in the film "Conflict" now showing at the State theatre. After playing in several romantic features, "Bogey" plays the role of a murderer who just about commits the perfect crime, but is trapped into revealing his hand.

The story of a little French patriot girl who helped to save her country by undergoing many injuries, both mentally and physically, is told in the film "Mademoiselle Fifi" opening Saturday night at the Lyric theatre and starting Kurt Kreuger and Simone Simon.

Treatment Of Brain Case Features Army Air Show

An unusual mystery with a Coney Island flavor is the puzzler to be presented on the nationwide audience participation series, "Calling All Detectives," Saturday at 9:30 p. m. over WOR. The dramatization, titled "The Case of the Time Rocket," is the story of four people who get on one of the amusement park's most thrilling rides, but when the car stops only three get out.

The Army's treatment of a typical brain injury case will be described in "The Delicate Instrument," on the Army Service Forces "Assignment Home," broadcast Saturday at 10:15 p. m., over Station WABC. Social as well as medical aspects of the treatment are covered in this dramatization.

The love ballad, "End of the World," and "Unclouded Day" an old-time hymn, are Roy Acuff's featured solos on the "Grand Ole Opry" show, Saturday, at 10:30 p. m., over Station WEA. Other tuneful highspots include "Home on the Range" and a medley of "In the Evening by the Moonlight."
