

Comedy, Drama Are Blended In Film "Mr. Muggs Rides Again"

There is an unusual blending of comedy and drama in "Mr. Muggs Rides Again," currently showing at the Quilna theatre. The comedy is hilarious and the dramatic action reaches peaks of real excitement. The result is a film which is thoroughly enjoyable through.

As the story opens, jockey Leo Gorcey refuses to "throw" a race to help a crooked gambler, and thereby becomes victim of a frameup which brings about his being barred from the track. After be-friending a financially embarrassed dowager, Gorcey, Huntz Hall and the other members of the East Side gang take her horse to New York with hilarious results.

It's a picture few will choose to miss.

A stirring tribute to a gallant American, a living testimonial to his courage and to the way of life he fought to defend is presented in "Pride of the Marines," now showing at the Ohio theatre. Starring John Garfield, as heroic Al Schmid, Marine, Eleanor Parker and Dane Clark, the film is his own story of love, action and adventure.

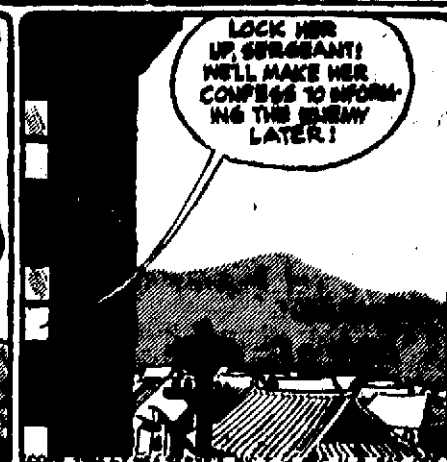

Speaking of predicaments, Peggy Ryan doesn't spare the horses in "That's the Spirit," now playing at the Sigma theatre. Jack Oakie plays the role of her father who, the dead, returns to earth to get his daughter back on an even keel. Opening Saturday at the Sigma theatre will be "Johnny Angel" with George Raft.

Mystery of mysteries are the people who are supposed to be Amazons. Another of the many things held secret from the prying world is the size of these people and the type of civilization they have. In the film "Tarzan and the Amazons," currently showing at the State theatre, all these things are explained in addition to the many adventures of the "jungle-man."

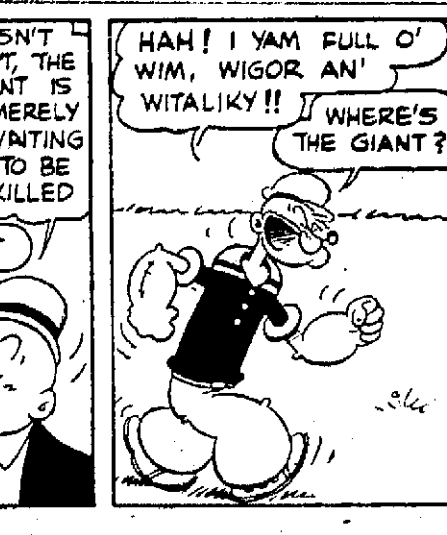

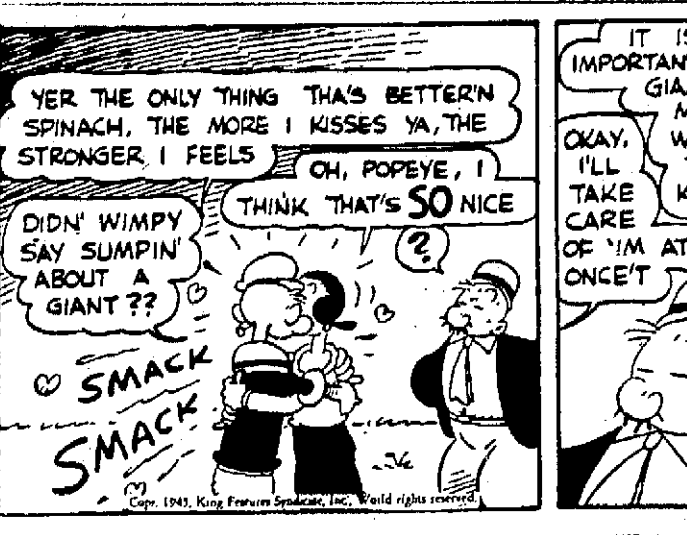

Perhaps no greater mix-up of affairs can be found than in the film "District Attorney and the Carter Case," opening Saturday night at the Lyric theatre. Currently showing is "Dillinger" with Lawrence Tierney.

3 Murders And Platinum Wrench Mix In Air Show

A series of three murders send Detective Charles in quest of a million dollar platinum wrench, in "The Case of the Phony Finagler," this Friday's creepy episode of "The Adventures of the Thin Man," over WABC at 8:30 p. m. And after a threat to his own life and death-spouse Nora's, Nick is doubly determined to find the death-dealing "spider woman" and the mysterious monkey wrench.

Movie Actress Glenda Farrell, who recently appeared with Arlene Francis in the Broadway hit, "The Overtons," joins the "Blind Date" mistress of ceremonies again to serve as chaperone Friday, at 8 p. m., over Station WJZ. She's slated to accompany winning servicemen and their date mates to New York's famous Stock Club for an evening of free dining and dancing. Tom Wallace produces the wild-and-woe series.

The career of Eugene Field, beloved American poet and newspaper columnist, will be highlighted on "Freedom of Opportunity" at 8:30 p. m. Friday over WOR. Field is known for his "Little Boy Blue" and other children's poems, favorites of America's youth for years.

Master Mentalist Dunninger will need all his uncanny powers of concentration when he attempts to fish one key from a score of others and opens a padlock previously selected by a guest judge, as his breathtaking "Brainbuster" to be heard at 10 p. m. Friday over Station WCAP.

Each of the guest judges—including Soprano Vivian Della Chiesa, Lewis H. Weber, vice president of one of Cleveland's oldest industrial organizations, and a serviceman to be chosen on the eve of the broadcast—will have a chance to stump the Master Mentalist. Between fabulous feats, music will be supplied by Songstress Marilyn Day and Mitchell Ayres' orchestra. Bill Slater is master of ceremonies.
