"Radio Stars On Parade" Jam - Packed With Comedy

Jam-packed with slap-stick and everything that goes with it is the film "Radio Stars on Parade" opening at the Sigma theatre Wednes-

Frances Langford and Skinny Ennls keep things moving at a great 1ate in this picture which shows the radio stars behind the microphones. Plenty of songs and orchestral music are to be found and with n slight touch of drama and ro-f mance, the film turns out one of the best of the season.

Life is something that few people worry about—they have it and that's all that matters. But in the case of Texas Guinan, clockstopper of New York night clubs during the "roaring '20's," life meant more to her than anything. The reason for this was that at the height of her career, she "Incendiary Blonde" with Betty Hutton in the leading role is currently showing at the Ohio

Major Joppolo entered the tiny Sicilian village of Adano with one thing in mind-get the people back on an even keel no matter what the cost. That was his job and he fulfilled it well as shown in the film "A Bell For Adano" now showing at the Quilna the-Sharing the billing is "The Gay Senorita" with Jinx Falken-

"The Coin Is Green," that title may sound unusual and it is in many ways. In the first place it may be difficult for you to connect the title of this film with the happenings of the movie which is now showing at the State theatre They may seem quite distant at the time but gradually you begin to see it all. Starring in this unnsual picture is Bette Davis, Nigel Bruce, John Dall and Joan Lorring. All play then roles equally

"Greenwich Village," where things happen almost every moment of the day, is the name of the film now showing at the Lyric theatre starting Don Ameche, William Bendix, Carmen Miranda and introducing Vivian Blaine, the "Cherry Blonde." The village is simply swarming with artists awaiting that so-called lucky break which will speed them on their way to fame. "Gambling Daughters" is the
