Musical Score Best Ever In Current Lyric Film

From the many movie spics stationed at various vantage points in the film capital, known as Holywood, comes the report that "Tonight and Every Night" is not only lush with big production numbers but that the musical score is the best ever.

The story of this film currently showing at the Lyric theatre deals with the heroic and stoic tenacity of a group of English show folk who keep their theatre open for the boys' entertainment during the worst days of the London Blitz.

The tender love story of a couple who, because of the war, could not carry on a normal married life, is told in "You Came Along" with Robert Cummings, Don De-Fore, Charles Drake and Lizabeth Scott, and currently playing at the Ohio theatre. "Rhapsody In Blue," the film which tells the life story of George Gershwin, will be premiered at 11 p. m. Thursday at the theatre. This is an advance showing of the film which will be shown later at regular prices. Tickets for the premiere can be purchased now at the box office.

"Junior Miss" with Peggy Ann Garner is the film which kept audiences in proverbial "stitches" and is continuing to do so at the Quilna theatre. When a young lady unavoidably sees her dad put his arm around another girl-supposedly a friend of the family's-her mind begins to work overtime. Sharing the bffling is a murder mystery, "Caribbean Mystery."

What a combination-Van and Bogie-all on one bill. Maybe it seems too good to be true but just the same, that's the case in the Sigma theatre. Van Johnson is starred in "Born For Trouble," while Humphrey Bogart can be seen with Ann Sheridan in "It All Came True." Last summer snow would have seemed very comfortable but now that things are becoming a little on the chilly side of its own volition, snow doesn't seem so good. In the film "Christmas In Connecticut" you can see all the snow you want and it's several feet deep-in fact, it's deep enough for sleighs. The picture is currently showing at the State theatre and stars Dennis Morgan, Barbara have the romantic leads in "Gam- open there Wednesday.
