Public Employees Locals of CIO Ask 30% Wage Boosts

MILWAUKEE (UP)—Wisconsin locals of the State, County, and Municipal Workers Union, CIO, today had pledged their support to a CIO national program calling for a 30 per cent cover-all wage increase in basic wages and full employment.

Meeting at Milwaukee during the weekend, the delegates adopted a resolution stating that public employees in general are "grossly underpaid."

Robert Weinstein, New York, national secretary-treasurer of the union, told the meeting that the only way to create jobs for everyone is to raise the standard of living of all working people so that they can buy the nation's products.

Mel Heinritz, secretary-treasurer of the Wisconsin CIO industrial union council, said that labor must make itself felt politically if it wishes to achieve its aims.

The Big Horn spring, in central Wyoming, is the largest spring in the world. It has a greater flow than all other similar springs in the nation combined.
