

Horror Drama At Sigma Features Boris Karloff

Combining the plague and a baneful vampire, provides the sinister atmosphere for the horror-drama, "Isle of the Dead" starring Boris Karloff and opening at the Sigma theatre Wednesday.

As a brilliant Greek army general, visiting his wife's grave on a small island, he finds the body missing. He joins a group of people including a superstitious old Greek woman and a lovely young Greek

Hutton, the film is sometimes poignant, sometimes happy, but always a tender salute to today's youngsters-in-love. It tells the timely story of a youthful couple's whirlwind courtship, their romantic elopement and their after-honeymoon adventure. Their joy and their tears are recorded as, together, they face a future entirely different from what they had expected. Coming to the Ohio Thursday, in an eerie form will be "Leeston" the magician who, it has been told, has more spooks up his sleeve than you can shake a stick at. The show will begin at 10:30 p. m. and there will be only one show.

A couple of command performances will slip in at the Quilna theatre Tuesday. They are "Pin Up Girl" with Betty Grable and "Buffalo Bill" with Joel McCrea. Brought to the theatre by popular request, the pictures are in themselves, magnificent and possess superb acting.

Continuing its stay at the State theatre is the film "Her Highness and the Bellboy" with Hedy Lamarr, Robert Walker and June Allyson. The picture is wonderful with their three in the starring roles. It has plenty of laughs, action, poignancy and many other features which go to make a film good. Sharing the billing is "The Falcon in San Francisco" with Tom Conway holding top honors.

A story of a boy and his horse—that's "Thunderhead—Son of Flicka" currently showing at the Lyric theatre. Telling about a boy whose desire it was to own a race horse, the picture is replete with a cast that would help make any picture good. Its stars are Roddy McDowall, Preston Foster and Rita Johnson. Sharing the bill is "Forever Yours."

The story of a girl whose ardent desire it was to go to the city is told in "Behind City Lights" the picture opening at the Allen theatre Wednesday. The dangers of the big city are to be found depicted in this picture.

Award Of Heisman Trophy To Be Aired Tuesday By MBS

Sports fans of the nation will turn their attention to their local speakers at 10:30 p. m. Tuesday for the exclusive broadcast of the presentation of the Heisman Trophy Award to the outstanding football player of 1945 as it is heard over MBS.

The ceremonies will be broadcast from the banquet hall of the Downtown Athletic club in New York City, under whose auspices this annual award is made to the leading grid luminary of the season.

Alan Young swings a big deal when he lands the job of making signs for Eddie Cantor's big stage production during the Alan Young Show at 8:30 p. m. Tuesday.

When the former comic learns from Eddie that his salary for the work is a pair of tickets in the rear of the third balcony, the fireworks begin and the feud is on.

Radio Headliner Kenneth Lynch is kidnaped in the interests of science when he appears as guest ghoul behind Your Host Paul McGrath's creaking door in "The Dark Chamber," an eerie "finer Sanctum" mystery heard at 9 p. m. Tuesday over CBS.

Bill Goodwin and Nancy Coleman, Hollywood favorites, co-star in "Can't Have Cae and Eat It," the "This Is My Best" offering to be heard at 9:30 p. m. Tuesday over CBS.

A new angle on chiseling veterans will be tried by a mob which attempts to use a war hero as a front, but the Falcon (Michael Waring) subsequently digs into the maze of crosses and double-crosses and comes up with the right set of figures in "Death Hooks a Loan Shark" on the broadcast of "Adventures of the Falcon" over MBS at 8:30 p. m. Tuesday.
