Absorbing Screen Drama Commences Friday At Ohio

All the craftsmanlike elements, which, fused together, produce a superior and absorbing screen drama, are present in "Danger Signal," the film which will open at the Ohio theatre Friday.

Co-starring Faye Emerson and Zachary Scott, important new stars, the picture recounts, with power and sympathy, the adventures of Hilda Fenchurch, a capable, intelligent young stenographer, whose white-collar routine was shattered one day when Ronnie Marsh intruded upon her career, twisting and shattering not only her own life but casting also an indelible stamp upon her family, her friends everyone and everything she held dear.

Ronnie Marsh is no ordinary villien. Suave, self-assured, outwardly gracious and even gentle, it is his great fortune to find pefuge with the Fereburch family Coming to the Quilna theatre Leader" with Phil Harris and Leslie Brooks. Paced by nine lively songs and hilarious situations, the picture turns out to be a terrific sensation. It's a joyous jive jamboree that swings merrily into your hearts. Rocking with rellicking thythm and flashing with furious fun, "I Love a Band Leader" will be billed with "Boston Blackie Booked on Suspicion."

Loughs keep abreast of theills in the fast-naced mystery. "Follow That Woman," now chowing at the Sigma theatre. The prodúction combines suspense and action with high comedy in a smooth way that makes the picture good. It tells the hilarious story of the over-ambitious wife of a private detective, who decides to carry on for her bushend while he's in service. Full of exaggerated ideas of sleuthing derived from reading too many mystery novels, pretty Nancy Kelly, in the role of the wife, sets out to solve a crime and winds un in the middle of it. clerk
