

'Stork Club' Comes Friday To Ohio Theatre Screen

Everybody who reads the news columnists has heard about the world-famous Stork Club, the night spot of the world. Now, for the first time, it will be possible to get inside the club, no matter where you are, for a film has been produced using that glamor spot for the background of an equally glamorous film.

The film is "Stork Club," opening at the Ohio theatre Friday, and starring Betty Button in the role of a hatecheck girl to whom the most amazing things happen, because she saves the life of an eccentric millionaire. The millionaire is portrayed by Barry Fitzgerald and according to all advance reports, that genial gentleman has a role that is as well tailored to his lovable characteristics as the one which won him an Academy Award in "Going My Way."

Only one more day remains in the time allowed for you to see the picture, "She Wouldn't Say Yes" with Rosalind Russell and Lee Bowman and currently showing at the Quilna theatre.

Opening at the theatre Friday will be Roy Rogers in one of his newest screen offerings, "Don't Fence Me In" with Dale Evans as his co-star. The picture is a full-fledged western with all the trimmings.

The Sigma theatre is featuring "She Went to the Races" with James Craig and Frances Gifford. The film tells of a scientist who may lose his position in a laboratory should $20,000 not be put up for further experiments of his. Things become involved when four of his cohorts decide the track is the best way to gain the money. The fun begins when they try to calculate winners by scientific means.

The Spanish Civil war is the main theme for "Confidential Agent" with Lauren Bacall and Charles Boyer, currently showing at the State theatre. The action is speedy and proves to be superb entertainment.

John Wayne has the starring role in "Rainbow Valley" the film now showing at the Lyric theatre. Sharing the billing is "Arson Squad."

Closing Thursday at the Allen theatre is "Belle of the Yukon" with Gypsy Rose Lee and Randolph Scott. Coming Friday will be "Riders of the Deadline" with William Boyd as Hopalong Cassidy.

TOWN BANS BILLBOARDS

LA JOLLA, Cal.—(UP)—The last advertising billboards in La Jolla were coming down today as the local Conservation Society completed removal of real-estate advertisements. "No billboards allowed" will be the rule after that. Two large signs at north and south entrances to La Jolla will tell tourists that the ban is an effort to maintain the beauty of the community.

Ann Hutchinson, banished from the Massachusetts Bay colony, became one of the founders of Rhode Island.

Joseph Cotten Has Star Role Of 'Suspense' on Thursday

"The Pastboard Box" will be the starring vehicle for Joseph Cotten, motion picture luminary, when he appears on "Suspense," radio's theatre of thrills, in his broadcast at 8 p. m. Thursday over CBS.

Bud Abbott and Lou Costello spend some time at the track, when Costello enters his horse, Girdle, in a race at Santa Anita, and Girdle falls in the back stretch and the home stretch to make it a two-way stretch in the comedy broadcast at 10 p. m. Thursday over NBC.

Fay McKenzie, film musical comedy star, will join Frank Morgan's "Music Hall" at 9 p. m. Thursday over NBC. Eddy Duchin, the Charioteers and John Scott Trotter's orchestra feature on the half-hour.

After spending considerable time in her young career with stock companies, Miss McKenzie won Hollywood's attention for her performance in "Meet the People."

Popular southern thrush Dinah Shore welcomes pride of New England, Rudy Vallee to "Dinah Shore's Open House" to be heard at 8:30 p. m. Thursday over NBC.
