Notes for You...

By JACK GAVER

(United Press Staff Correspondent) NEW YORK-If you're curious about the chances of a drop in theater admission prices in the near future, this will give you a sound idea: the stagehands just got a raise. No drop.

Two weeks of negotiations were topped Tuesday by an agreement to raise the stagehands' wages 15 per cent. They had asked for 30 Backstage department heads will their subordinates will get $74.64. The pact becomes effective Friday and runs until Jan. 31, 1948.

WIBA Theater cost have risen steadily in the past five years. Admissions have been raised a bit, especially on non-musicals, in numerous cases. The day of the $3 top for orchestra seats at evening per-formances is nearly ended. Today a producer who seeks to put on a one-set play with a cast of 10 or 23% 12 persons is regarded as operat-ing on a shoestring if he doesn't have well over $25,000 for his initial costs. Not many years ago you could bring such a production into town for $10,000. And the musical show that costs no more than $100,000 is a thing of the past.

Orson Welles apparently hasn't been daunted by the failure of "Nelli. Bly," which is about a woman's race to set an around-the-world travel record in 1889.

10814 For several 3514 months Producer 0% Mike Todd had Mike Todd had on his schedule 112 a musical ex-travaganza to be 17 called "Around 19 the World in 1914 Eighty Days," 1234 based on Jules World in Verne's story about Phineas Fogg. Welles was to write and stage with Cole Por ter music.

Todd has WELLES dropped the project and Welles has joined forces with Paul Feigay and Oliver Smith, producers of "on the Town" and "Billion Dollar Baby," to put it on this spring.

Failure of "Nellie Bly," which starred Victor Moore and William Carton cost producer Eddie Gaxton, cost producer Eddie Cantor and Nat Karson $300,000. Zonite 40% Most of it was said to be Cantor's.

Next to "Spring in Brazil," which lost some $350,000 without ever opening in New York, it is the most expensive flop and the biggest headache of this season. "Nellie Bly" will close Saturday night after 16 performances. The show grossed $31,944 for its first work but to draw the state of the state of the state of the saturday and the state of the saturday and week, but advance buying fell off in the face of adverse reviews to such an extent that it obviously wasn't worthwhile to carry on.
