

Dick Powell in Starring Role In State Picture, 'Cornered'

Giving the new Dick Powell another stirring dramatic role to follow his success in "Murder, My Sweet," the film "Cornered" opening at the State theatre Thursday presents the virile actor in a remarkable story of an avenger's quest.

Walter Slezak and lovely Micheline Cheirel, in her first American role, are featured with Powell who is starred as a Canadian fighter pilot whose French bride was murdered by an elusive assassin who is fleeing from vengeance. Powell goes to France in search of the murderer where he learns that a man named Jarnac was responsible for the deed and, despite plausible reports that Jarnac was himself killed by terrorists, suspects the man is still alive and begins his search.

With only two more days remaining in the time for film fans to see the Ohio film "Scarlet Street" led this reviewer remind you that it's something unusual in screen production. With Edward G. Robinson, Joan Bennett and Dan Duryea in the starring roles the picture tells the story of a man haunted by unhappiness. In his quest for it he turns murderer in two ways—once directly, and then indirectly. For the type of mystery which will make you stop to think, this is it.

As is the case with the Ohio, so it remains with the Quilna theatre where "Doll Face" is showing currently. The picture has Vivian Blaine, Dennis O'Keefe, Perry Como and Carmen Miranda starred and has one of the most amusing stories ever woven into film form.

It tells of a girl who wants an acting career and her many problems in achieving it. All make for swell fun.

Robert Donat and Deborah Kerr are the stars of the Sigma's current film, "Vacation from Marriage" which tells of a young English couple whose married life becomes so boring they decide something must be done.

When the war comes along to lend a hand in the problem, they both go off, not to see each other for about four years. When they return—well, therein lies the story. Sharing the billing is "Flying Saucers."

Fred MacMurray is the star of the Lyric's film, "Captain Eddie" the picture which tells of the many experiences of Eddie Rickenbacker. Everything from the automobile races which caused so much fervor to the time he and his men spent on a rubber raft in mid-Pacific is shown and told expressively and humanly in the film. The co-feature is "Boston Blackie Booked on Suspicion."

A technicolor treat is in store for all Allen theatre-goers for Alice Faye is currently billed there in "Hello Frisco, Hello." Filled with plenty of laughs and songs, the picture is perhaps one of the gayest musicals of the season. The co-feature is "Saddle Serenade."
