Lyric Has Bang-Up Picture In New Film, 'Cover Girl'

In the not too distant past, before the opening of a motion picture of the size and unquestionable importance of the new technicolor musical "Cover Girl," co-starring Rita Hayworth and Gene Kelly now at the Lyric theatres many reports from Hollywood resounded

There were so many "colossals and titanics" that an average theatregoer, even with an inattentive eart to Hollywood, found himself emitting polite but audible "Oh, yeahs" over the integrity of such calogles. Now folks will be able to see their mistake in uttering such a phrase as "Oh yeah" when they first heard about this film. It is just what Hollywood reporters said it would be, terrific.

If Noah Webster were alive today, doubtlessly he would find many words for which he would have to more than rack his brain to get a definition. One of the latest is "kibble" which Claudette Colbert, Don Ameche and Richard Foian manage to coin in the film "Guest Wife" now showing at the Ohio theatre.

One of the funniest films in a log time is this picture which tells of a happily married couple starting out on their second honeymoon and having the wife end up with the husband's best friends. It's truly a masterpiece of comedy and is one film you'll not want to miss.

Coming to the Quilna theatre Tuesday will be a film, in fact, two of them, of which fans have been demanding a return per-formance. The pictures are "Yank in the R. A. F." with Tyrone Power, Betty Grable and John Sut-ton and "You Were Never Lovelier" with Fred Astaire and Rita Hayworth. Both pictures received top billing when they first played here but are on a double billing now. Bowing out Monday night will "Mexicana" with Tito Guizar and Constance Moore; also "Girls of the Big House."

Dorothy Lamour leads Arturo de Cordova a merry chase in the pic-ture "Masquerade in Mexico" now showing at the Sigma theatre. Posing as a duchess, Miss Lamour manages to get across a number of
