

'Blithe Spirit' Makes Debut At Sigma Theatre Wednesday

The movie version of Noel Coward's "Blithe Spirit" the enchanting story of an alluring ghost and her return to her husband here below, will make its debut at the Sigma Theatre Wednesday.

Elvira, played by Kay Hammond, is the alluring ghost. For seven years she has been "out of this world" and for seven years she has yearned to return to her husband, Charles, played by Rex Harrison. The oddly tantalizing situation arises quite innocently when Charles, who is writing a book about a homicidal medium, invites a neighborhood crystal-gazer to his home to give a seance in order to learn the tricks of the trade. From then on the fun begins.

Plenty of laughs are to be found in the current film at the Ohio theatre, "Cinderella Jones" with Joan Leslie and Robert Alda. William Eythe Is Starred On 'This Is My Best' Show

William Eythe who skyrocketed to stardom in his role as the young FBI agent in "The House on 92nd Street," co-stars with Louise Albritton in the radio adaptation of "For Always" in "This Is My Best" at 9:30 p. m. Tuesday over CBS.

The story tells how two adopted children helped save a marriage that was going on the rocks.

The Kingfish, jittery, consults a neurologist who advises him to take up a hobby in the "Anus 'n' Andy" broadcast at 9 p. m. Tuesday over NBC.

In searching for his hobby, the Kingfish nearly brings on a nervous breakdown for himself as well as his friends, Amos 'n' Andy. To overcome his timidity, guest ghoul Victor Moore, veteran star of stage and screen, develops an obsession for murder when he appears as caretaker of the morgue in "Murder in the Morgue," a blood-curdling "Inner Sanctum" mystery to be broadcast at 9 p. m. Tuesday over CBS.

Playing tricks on a frightened soul who earns his livelihood as a major domo at the morgue, proves a fatal error for a capricious police inspector. Unfortunately, however, several innocent young girls have to forfeit their lives to contribute to the cop's downfall.
