

'Saratoga Trunk' Begins At Ohio Theatre Friday

Crammed with action and romance, the lusty film adaptation of Edna Ferber's best-selling novel, "Saratoga Trunk," opens Friday at the Ohio theatre.

Boasting as fine a cast as ever assembled in Hollywood, starring Gary Cooper and Ingrid Bergman with topnotch supporting players, the film paints a vivid picture of exciting New Orleans at the turn of the century and wide-open Saratoga in its hey-day. The story revolves about exotic Clio Dulaine, played by Ingrid Bergman who returns to her native New Orleans in order to avenge the treatment accorded her mother by her father's people.

"One Way to Love," the hilarious story of two radio writers who just can't seem to get together under any circumstances, will bow out to the Quilna theatre Thursday night to allow "Snafu" to take its place.

HOLLYWOOD, Mar. 28 — (NEA) — Gary Cooper tells it on himself. One day while working on "Saratoga Trunk," Gary and Jerry Austin, the 42-inch actor who played Cupid, were walking to the studio cafe. Some tourists drove by in a bus and one said, "Look, there's Gary Cooper." "Which one?" another asked.

and "Song of the Prairie," two new hits, to come in. The latter couple will play thru to Tuesday. Randolph Scott makes the perfect town marshal of the film "Abilene Town" at the Sigma theatre. With Ann Dvorak in the role of a chorus girl of that time, the picture tells the story of the home-steaders who dared to cross the cattle trail.

For all the thrills and chills you could possibly stand, the State brings them to you in the film "House of Dracula." With such masters of the scare sequences as Lon Chaney, John Carradine, and others, the film offers you some top entertainment along the mystery line.

"Pack up Your Troubles" in your old kit bag, and go to the Lyric theatre where the film of the same name currently can be seen playing. A western film, "Bells of Rosarita" with Roy Rogers has been added to the roster to insure plenty of fun and enjoyment.

The Allen theatre will bring a couple of suspenseful films to movie fans in "Mystery Broadcast" and "Drums of Fu Man Chu" now showing. Coming Friday will be "Man from Frisco" with Anne Shirley and Michael O'Shea and "Prairie Law."

For all dog-lovers, and film fans of the now famous Lassie, the film, "Son of Lassie" is currently showing at the Majestic theatre. With Peter Lawford heading the cast and Nigel Bruce in a supporting role, the picture will prove to be excellent entertainment for all.

BIG FRUIT CROP LOOMS
OAK HARBOR, Mar. 28—(AP)—Here in the Ottawa-co orchard district, fruit growers hope for a heavy crop if a sudden freeze does not ruin the abnormally early buds on peach and apple trees. Walter Zoschke, Lacarne grower, predicted the county's fruit crop would reach 1,250,000 bushels, compared with 750,000 last year—providing there is no freeze during the "danger period" of the next two weeks.
