Madison residents desiring to use community garden space this year were urged today to make application soon, since only a few plots are left in the S. Park st. project, the community planning council said today.

All plots at the Farley tract behind the Timlin Lumber Co. on University ave. have been reserved and a price for use of the space will be set at a meeting of the tract committee to be held at 4:30 p. m. Friday in the council's offices, 410 State st.

A new "feature" of the S. Park st. project this year will be the use of a large area of the grounds by residents of the University of Wisconsin's Camp Randall trailer camp. Both garden locations have been plowed and disced and are ready for planting.

Roger J. Altpeter is chairman of the Farley tract assignment committee while Harold D. Hayes and Herbert P. Annen are in charge of the S. Park st. project. Persons desiring a plot at the latter location may reserve one by calling Fairchild 3244. 1,300 New Measles Cases in a Week
