

Voice of Trudy Erwin Heard Over Bing Crosby Broadcast

Bing Crosby brings back a familiar voice to the Music Hall at 9 p. m. Thursday over NBC. None other than Trudy Erwin will make a guest appearance on the show.

Before she became a regular singing partner with Bing, she was one of the Music Males on the program. Stepping from this to solos and duets with Crosby, she's gone on to greater heights in her singing career.

Tony Martin, who recently returned to civilian life after having served in both the Army and Navy in World War II, makes one of his first guest-star appearances when he visits the "Dinah Shore's Open House" show at 8:30 p. m. Thursday over NBC.

Dinah honors Tony's return to the microphone with several tunes, and Martin follows in the same pattern.

Keanan Wynn, whose film and radio roles have ranged from light comedy to heavy menace, plays a return engagement on "Suspense" radio's theatre of thrills, in its broadcast at 8 p. m. Thursday over CBS.

He will be heard as the central figure in an eerie, hair-raising tale.

Bud Abbott and Lou Costello give each other the bird when Costello lands a job in a pet shop in the comedy broadcast at 10 p. m. Thursday over NBC. During the periods when Costello's antics land

Observers See Ala as Scapegoat; Eventual Resignation Expected

NEW YORK, Apr. 18—(INS)—The eventual resignation of Ambassador Hussein Ala is freely predicted today in diplomatic circles of the United Nations.

A check of delegates and observers alike culminated in the conclusive opinion that the swarthy little man from Tehran is well on the way to becoming the "scapegoat" of party politics.

Alto Ala himself is keeping silent on his immediate future and his official relationship with his government, there is a growing concern among those concerned with the activities behind the scenes at the United Nations Security Council sessions that the Iranian ambassador is soon going to be "the man without a country."

The same sources point out that three weeks ago, the Tehran government of Premier Ghanam practically disowned its own ambassador in New York for prosecuting the grievances against Soviet Russia too energetically. In due time it whitewashed him once again by informing the security council that he had the full confidence and backing of the Persian regime.

Ala indicated before the council meeting yesterday that the new conflict instructions he had received from his government would be followed "to the letter." At the 2 p. m. session he quietly accepted the chairman's invitation to sit at the council table, hiding his emotion behind an impassive face.

On the surface of it, the subsequent reading of his two letters to the security council sounded like the eating of his own words. He simply requested that in view of his government's confidence in Russia's intentions, the council drop from the agenda further consideration of the Iranian issue.

The council's sharp reaction to this move—with the exceptions of Russia and Poland—came as no surprise to Ala. In Iranian circles it was evident that he expected it, leaving the impression that his personal convictions and viewpoint have not undergone the same change in attitude as that of his government.

There is no doubt in diplomatic circles that whatever the outcome of the controversy, Hussein Ala will remain a "persona non grata" in Russian eyes and thus render his continued official position in the government of Premier Ghanam a questionable one. The prediction among seasoned observers is that Ala himself in the long run will supply the solution by resigning rather than accept a recall from Tehran.

Truman Would Visit Japan

WASHINGTON, Apr. 17—(AP)—President Truman told his news conference today that he would like to visit both China and Japan during a tentatively planned trip to Manila this summer for the inauguration of Philippine independence.

The President said that he had no plans for a fishing trip to the Pacific coast, but that he was considering seriously visiting Manila for the Philippine celebration, July 4.

As to whether he would take that occasion to go to Japan, the President said he didn't know, asserting that much depended on his schedule at home.

TWO BUDDIES? World War II Heroes May Join Unknown Soldier

WASHINGTON, Apr. 18—(UP)—The World War I Unknown Soldier who lies in honored glory at Arlington National cemetery may be joined by two unknown buddies of World War II—one from the European theatre and the other from the Pacific.

The senate military affairs committee today approved a proposal to return the body of an unknown veteran from each war zone for Arlington burial with appropriate ceremonies.

The house recently approved a bill to return the body of a single veteran, without reference to war theatre.

The senate committee, at request of Sen. Edwin C. Johnson, D., Colo., amended it to provide for honored burial of one American soldier from each theatre.

BALTIMORE & OHIO TRAINS

arriving and leaving DETROIT will use the MICHIGAN CENTRAL STATION

Beginning, Sunday, April 28, 1946

This announcement has great significance... to our patrons arriving or leaving Detroit. It typifies the B&O's endeavor to improve the facilities offered to the traveling public, whenever and wherever possible.

The commodious Michigan Central Station will enable us to better serve our bigger business... traffic that is increasing rapidly. And we anticipate a growing need in the years ahead. It is in line with progress.

As a result of this arrangement with the New York Central System, the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad is now in a position to plan for expansion, taking full advantage of future opportunities that will help us to serve the Detroit area and the State of Michigan to the full extent of our resources.

Fast, dependable train service to Detroit with convenient connections to other Michigan cities.

MORE JOBS! MORE BUSINESS! MORE OPPORTUNITY!

REPRODUCED above is another ad in our National Campaign to bring new industries to the 555 friendly Ohio towns that we serve.

Thousands of the Country's leading industrial executives are exposed to these messages, published in National Magazine and sent direct by mail—all of them urging industry to locate their plants in this area.

Through this advertising, supplemented by the efforts of our industrial department and local business associations, a number of new industries have already located in the territory. Already there are more jobs for more people.

Industry will prosper here, for we have abundant natural resources and abundant electric power at low rates—we have nearly a million horse-power of steam electric generating capacity to serve industry new and old.
