

Bert Gordon Has Star Role In Lyric Film Due Monday

Bert Gordon as the "Mad Russian" comes to the Lyric theatre Monday in one of the most hilarious comedy films ever to strike the screen. Gordon outdoes his radio antics on the screen in the film "How Do You Do," the greeting which introduces always on the air. Making good at all his attempts to make audiences roar with laughter, the funny man goes on to greatness in this film. Sharing the billing is "Red River Valley."

A tender and moving love-story is to be found in the film "Tomorrow Is Forever" now showing at the Ohio theatre. Claudette Colbert, Orson Welles and George Brent have the starring roles in this filming of a story which may be so like many life stories of women today.

Going back in history when the desperadoes of the plains were hunted down with posies and never shot in the back unless they were so dangerous and ruthless they could not be caught any other way, the film "Jesse James" continues its stay at the Quina theatre. Sharing the billing is "The Return of Frank James," telling almost in sequence the story of the James boys.

Joan Fontaine and Mark Stevens turn in masterful performances in the film "From This Day Forward" now playing at the Sigma theatre. The picture tells of a couple trying to plan despite interference by relatives. Sharing the bill is "Blonde Alibi."

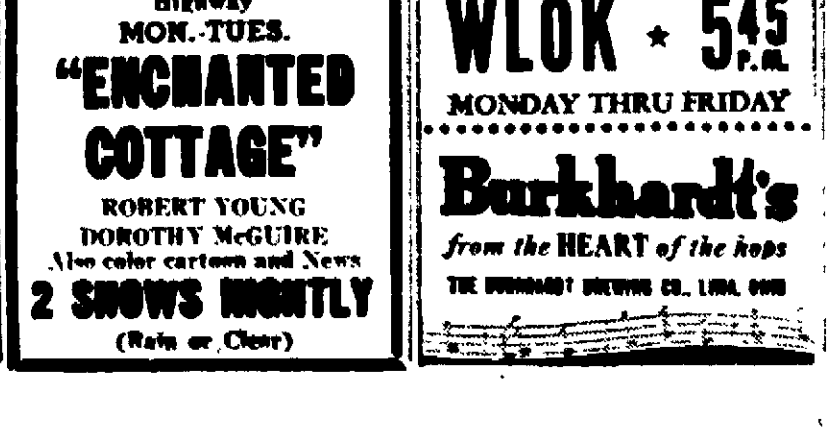

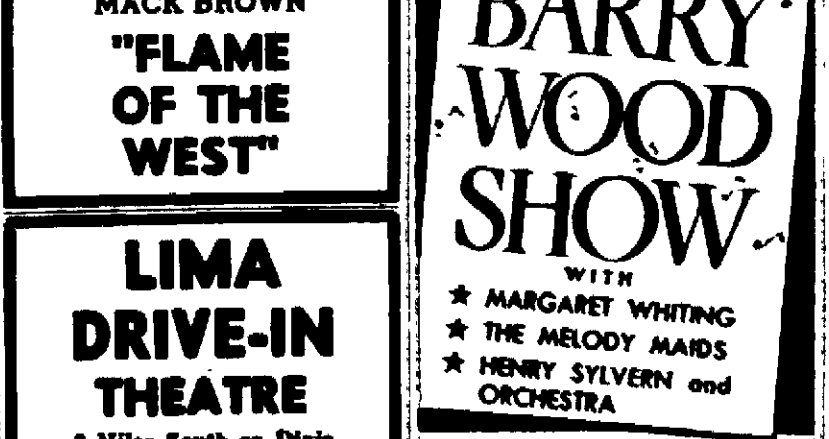

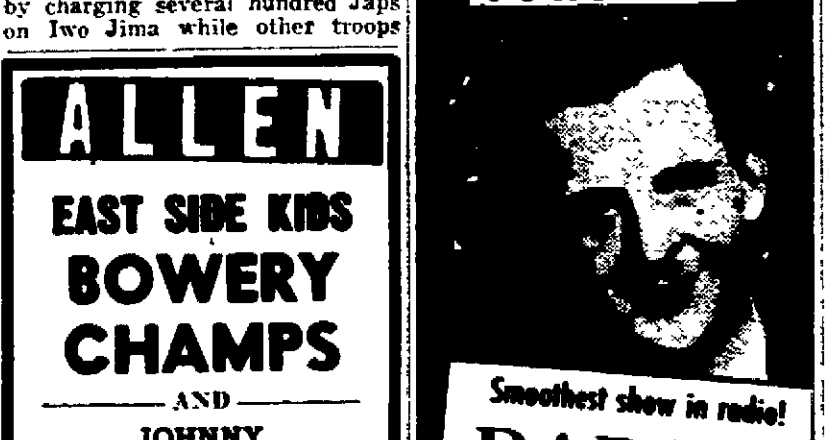

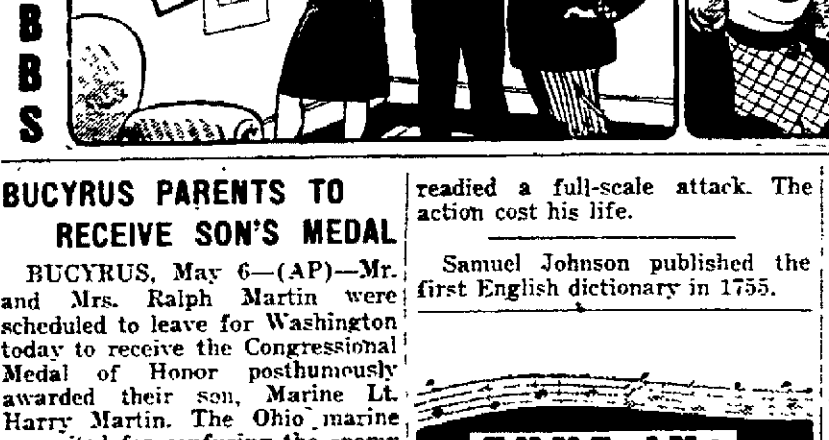

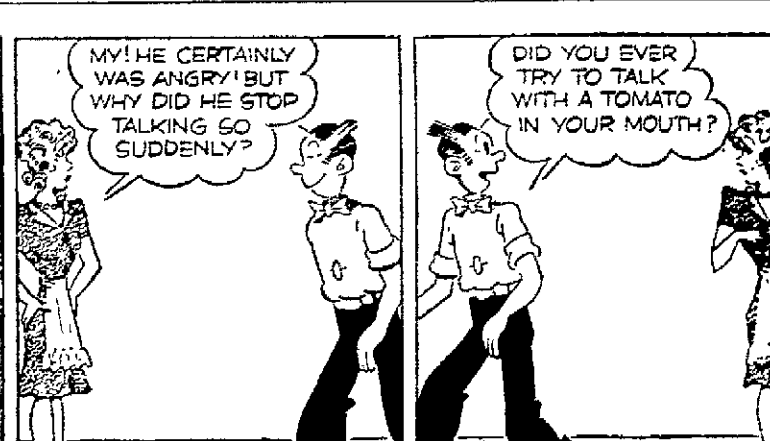

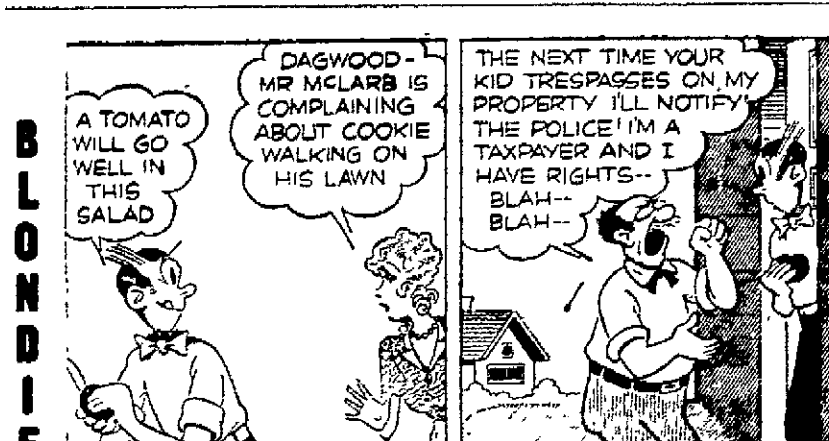

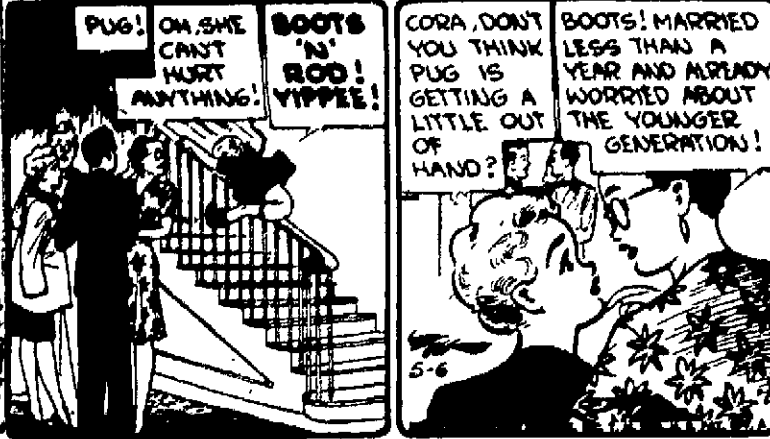

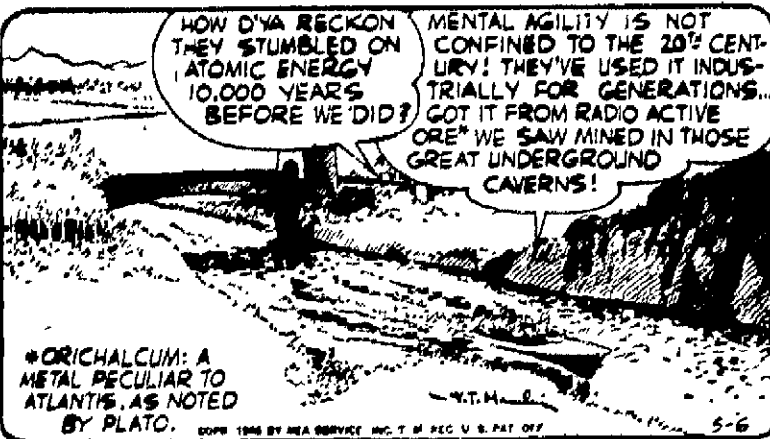

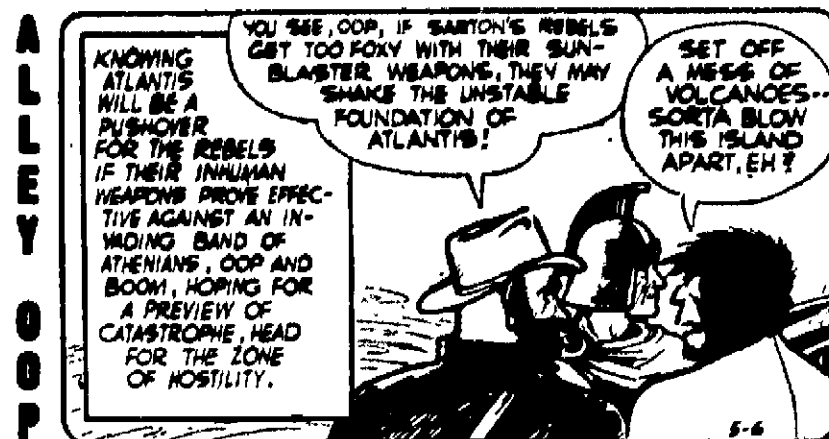

Dorothy McGuire lives a terror stricken life in the film "Spiral Staircase" now playing at the State theatre. Ethel Barrymore has a lead role in the film which tells of a maniacal murderer and his attempts to kill and rid the world of all imperfect specimens of life—including human beings.

Leo Gorcey and the East Side Kids have moved into the Allen theatre and are currently billing fans with their antics in "Bowery Champs," a hilarious adventure story of these boys from the lower east side of New York City. Sharing the billing is "Flame of the West."

Dorothy McGuire also is currently to be seen in the film "Enchanted Cottage" now playing at the Majestic theatre. The co-feature of the picture is "Rainbow Island," making a double bill worth anyone's attention.

Looking At HOLLYWOOD

with ERSKINE JOHNSON

HOLLYWOOD, May 6—(NEA)—We're just back from our first post-war Hollywood junket to Sacramento, Calif., for the world premiere of Republic's "In Old Sacramento." So—Read, my children, and you shall hear.

Of the twilight ride of Baby dear "Baby" is Constantine Moore, and she made the ride with co-star Bill Elliott in an open stagecoach down the main street of Sacramento, taking boys as thousands of citizens cheered. Yip-e!

We went along only as an observer, but we wound up as Connie's hoop-skirt holder-downer. In fact, it might have been very embarrassing if we hadn't come to her rescue.

She was wearing a hoop-skirted costume from the picture. The stagecoach seats were narrow. Connie had to sit sideways. The hoop skirt popped up the very first time she sat down.

A little boy with red hair and an autograph book clutched in his hand, standing beside the coach, gave a wolf whistle.

"Will someone please hold Baby's skirt down?" Connie asked, red-faced.

Eight glasses for "Baby" Sacramento was really hot—100 degrees even—as Connie and Bill made a tour of the town earlier in the day. Baby drank eight glasses of ice water. It was rugged going.

But no one thought of letting down the local townspeople. There was practically a local holiday the day Republic announced it would film "In Old Sacramento." The world premiere in Sacramento with Connie and Bill as Hollywood's good-will emissaries, left the citizens bordering on hysteria.

The two-stars visited Sutter's Fort and the state capital building, broke bread with city officials at Chamber of Commerce luncheon and dinners, and painted a big cast-iron California bear at the entrance to the state fairgrounds. This was the neatest trick of the trip. They painted the bear without using any paint. It was the fair press agent's idea. Bill climbed aboard the bear, paint brush in hand, and Connie leaned on the bear, paint brush and empty paint can in hand.

Bill is a "Native Son" Even Sacramento didn't realize that Bill Elliott is practically a citizen of Sacramento who goes to Hollywood to work in the movies. He spends much of his free time on a big ranch 35 miles from Sacramento. It's the Bar-bar-A, named after his 17-year-old daughter, Barbara.

The photographers were present again when Sacramento gave Connie a live lamb named "Lucky Seven," in honor of her wool wedding anniversary with agent Johnny Maschio.

The lamb went back to Hollywood with Connie on a Pacific airliner. Her four-year-old daughter, Gina, is now leading it around Beverly Hills on a leash.

But the lamb wasn't Connie's only present. "Every minute something arrives at my hotel room," she said. "Flowers, candy and . . ."

"And gold nuggets?" we asked. "No nuggets," Connie said.

CAMPAIGN IS STARTED
SUPPORTING DAM SITE
 ZANESVILLE, May 6—(AP)—A campaign to support the proposed $10,000,000 Dillion Dam project on the Licking river was to be launched at a meeting in Marietta today of officers and directors of the Muskingum Valley-assy.

The association has expressed opposition to an alternate plan for 13 small dams on the grounds that continued controversy might lead to abandonment of all flood control plans for the Licking river.

BUCYRUS PARENTS TO RECEIVE SON'S MEDAL

BUCYRUS, May 6—(AP)—Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Martin were scheduled to leave for Washington today to receive the Congressional Medal of Honor posthumously awarded their son, Marine Lt. Harry Martin. The Ohio marine was cited for confusing the enemy by charging several hundred Japs on Iwo Jima while other troops readied a full-scale attack. The action cost his life.

HAYES IN UNUSUAL ROLE
 Helen Hayes in "The Unsinkable Mrs. Hayes" finds a role different from any she has yet portrayed. Tonight in a thrilling radio drama on the Du Pont "Cavalcade of America," Miss Hayes brings to life a fabulous woman who sees her fortune go up in smoke, her boat go down in shipwreck, only to become great through dauntless faith and rollicking good humor. Listen and thrill to Helen Hayes on—
