'Hour of Charm' Leaves Air; Not To Be Replaced This Fall

According to an announcement by the sponsors of "The Hour of Charm," Sunday evening musical program, will be discontinued Sept. 1. The Phil Spitalny all-girl orchestra leaves the air after 11 years of praise-worthy performances. A spokesman for the sponsor pointed out that "at the present it is not contemplated that the program will be replaced."

Adding a light note to the Sunday evenings menu is "The Great Gildersleeve" show which is heard at 5:30 p. m. over NBC. With sumner on the doorstep. Gildersleeve discusses vacation plans with his nephew, Leroy, during the course of the show. Their ideas differ as to what constitutes the ideal vacation, the they agree that the idea of one is good,

In the season's final-broadcast "The Baby Snooks Show," another program expected to be dropped by its present sponsor, Snooks recalls with fiendish pleasure her favorite pranks of the past year.

Daddy's blood pressure boils all over again as the Terrible Tot's reminiscences bring by-gone tribulations to life.

Nick and Nora pick up a hitchhiker, and get taken for a ride themselves in this Sunday's fast moving episode of the "Adventures of the Thin Man" entitled the case of the Homicidal Hitch-

Hiker" at 6 p. m. over CBS. Sam Perrin, Jack Benny's chief writer, was in New York recently and recalled the birth of the "I Can't Stand Jack Benny" contest. that George Balzer suggested the stunt. Perrin recalls: "There was five-minute silence while we all waited for Jack to fire Balzer. But as the boss said nothing, we got braver and braver and finally agreed it was a good idea. We talked Jack into it."

The governor told his press conference that while a civil action would not be so effective as criminal prosecution, he had asked Atty. Gen. Hugh S. Jenkins to check the law for definite procedure. Jenkins, who expected to complete the sudy next week, said an injunction closed a dog track at Steubenville some years ago in the only parallel case he recalled.

"It is shocking to believe such brazenness and defiance is exhibited by lawless people against government and its enforcement officials," Gov. Lausche told his press conference. "If local authorities would merely show a dere to clean up the situation, it ould be done."
