with very keen quick thinking— East led the spade J. It was clear as a bell to South from that lead, that West had the spade Q. So he won the trick in his own hand with the K, then finessed the dummy's 10 against the Q, which was clearly marked with West. So East won and then immediately knocked out the heart A. South now was able to take a couple of other spades and four diamonds, but then, when he had to lose a trick to the club A, East set him with the heart K.

If East had returned the spade Q on that called lead, South would have won in dummy and then finessed against his J, and if East had selected the 2, he would have given South a very cheap trick in the dummy. But East picked the card which was the most bothersome, so kept his side from losing through West's miscue. Your Week-End Question
