JOHNSON

HOLLYWOOD, June 15—(NEA)—Pev Marley is trying to talk Linda Darnell into adopting twins. Jack Carson and Rosalind Russell will do another picture together at Warner Bros. For the first time since she made "Ecstasy," Hedy Lamarr is posing for leg art, to exploit "Dionanore Lady." Seeing as how she is producing the show, she's getting publicity-conscious as well.

Producer Jules Levey is paying Bunk Johnson, the 67-year-old maestro of jazz, for a role in the flicker "Conspiracy in Jazz." Eddie Albert met 86 of Margo's relatives while the couple spent a belated honeymoon in Mexico. M-G-M will feature a typical 1918 silent comedy, "Sole on Fire," for a sequence in "Merton of the Movies." Red Skelton stars in both films.

Top-Kick's Comedown Frank Latimore, the hobby-soxers' latest delight, experienced a thrill that comes to one ex-GI in a million. His former top-sergeant stopped him at the Beverly Tropics and asked him for his autograph. Lawrence Welk, the maestro known as the "Polka King," is in town for a musical short at Universal. The latest censorship ban states that kissing couples must keep their mouths firmly closed. Or didn't you see "Gilda"?

Patricia Morison is Broadway-bound for a musical. . . . Roddy McDowell has turned songwriter, with a couple of his tunes due to be published soon. . . . Paul Ralli, the Las Vegas attorney, will give the lowdown on those six-week divorces in a new book coming up, called "Nevada Lawyer."

"The Articles of Death," a new film script by Seelag Lester and Mervin Gerard has the studios drooling. It's about a rare disease known as cataplexy, which brings on trances strongly resembling death. . . . Mike Mazurki, who played the strong-arm gent with Dick Powell in "Murder My Sweet," just lost a cauliflower ear via plastic surgery. . . . Dorothy Claire, the Broadway singer, will be screen-tested.

Confessed Wife-Beater James Mason, of "Seventh Veil" fame, is chucking over rumors that he beats the ladies off the screen. . . . It all started when he wrote a witty piece of sarcasm for a London magazine titled, "Yes I Beat My Wife." . . . Tim Gayle, former press agent for Fred Waring, will publish a new music magazine, "Finale." . . . Charles Bennett talking about a highbrow: "He looks like the Arch of Triumph."

That good-looking nurse in the early scenes of "Somewhere in the Night" is Polly Rose, sister of Billy. Her screen name is Paula Reid. . . . Nestor Paiva, for 11 years the villain in "The Drunkard," gets his hair marcelled every morning now for the role of "Curly," a rancher, in the western "Ramrod." . . . Barry Fitzgerald has a new lightweight English motorcycle. He rides it like a motor cop, with studio executives worried silly.

PICKPOCKET HITS JUDGE NEWARK, June 15—(AP)—Common Pleas Judge Frederick M. Black reported to police that a pickpocket hit his wallet containing $25 and some valuable papers while he was shopping in the crowded Producers' Market here today.

The first paper mill in the United States was started in Philadelphia in 1690.

Questions and Answers
On Servicemen's
Problems

By DOUGLAS LARSEN

WASHINGTON, June 16 — (NEA) — The War Department has been swamped with requests from veterans for addresses of buddies they knew in the service and with whom they have since lost contact. The War Department does not give the addresses of former Army men except to next of kin. So if you are a veteran and trying to locate a former serviceman for one reason or another it is a waste of time to write to the Army.

The main reason the Army doesn't do this is to protect the privacy of the veteran. There have been attempts to get lists of addresses of former servicemen for various advertising schemes. And frequently the address is sought in order to take some legal action against a veteran.

In some instances where it can be shown to be very important, the Red Cross will help get the address of a veteran. Go to the local chapter and explain your reason. If the local official considers the reason important enough, he will set the wheels in motion and try to get this information. If the matter is of extreme importance the Red Cross can possibly get the address from the Army where an individual couldn't. The same is true of the Navy. The Navy, however, will furnish the address of an ex-serviceman if the reason for the request doesn't violate the veteran's privacy.

Another possible way of locating a former buddy in the service is thru the American Legion. In the publication, "National Legionnaire," names of veterans whose addresses are needed are printed with the request for information on their whereabouts. This service is mainly for members of the Legion.

It is less difficult to locate men who are still in service. The Red Cross has extensive facilities to do this. In some cases Veterans' Administration will furnish the present address of a veteran if a good reason is given for asking, and a self-addressed stamped envelope is enclosed. This, of course, is possible only for a veteran who has had some dealing with VA and has filed a claim for compensation.

(Questions will be answered only in this space—not by mail.)

UNRRA is staffed by an international civil service comprising about 10,000 persons recruited from 43 nations.

Coal Delivery Limits Lifted

WASHINGTON, June 15—(AP)

—With bituminous coal production back near normal, the Solid Fuels Administration relaxed today its limitation on deliveries to domestic consumers.

Domestic consumers, householders and others who buy thru retail dealers who ordinarily use storage facilities are now permitted to receive up to 60 per cent of the supply they obtained between Apr. 1, 1945, and Mar. 31, 1946.

Domestic consumers who do not ordinarily store soft coal still are limited to ten days' supply, or one truck load. This limitation had applied to all domestic consumers since May 31.

The Solid Fuels Administration reported today that soft coal production in the week ended June 8 totaled 12,650,000 tons, compared with 3,700,000 tons in the preceding week, and 11,973,000 tons in the corresponding week last year. It was the first week of full production since the beginning of the soft coal strike Apr. 1.

'Counter-Spy' Show on Sunday Is Expose of Extortion Game

Major Gen. Edward F. Witsell, Army adjutant general, urges families of servicemen to listen to "David Harding, Counter-Spy" at 4:30 p. m. Sunday over ABC. The episode is scheduled to air an expose of attempts to extort money from the families of missing soldiers. Kay Armen will be guest songstress with Alec Templeton at 7 p. m. Sunday over NBC.

Collett, Prosecutor Dies in Hospital

WASHINGTON COURT HOUSE, June 15—(AP)—John B. Hill, 45, Fayette-co prosecutor who sent James W. Collett to the electric chair for a triple murder three years ago, died at the Good Samaritan hospital in Cincinnati today.

Hill obtained the conviction of Collett for slaying the Elmer McCoy family Thanksgiving eve, 1943. The prosecutor had been in failing health for several months and underwent an operation yesterday. He formerly lived in Columbus, O., where he practiced law. He was the third successive prosecutor of Fayette-co to die in office.

He is survived by his widow and a brother, Winston of Washington Court House.
