

TRIPLETS LEAVE FOR NEW HOME IN PITTSBURGH, PA.

Mother and Former Yank Soldier-Father Plan Marriage Soon

NEW YORK, July 6—(AP)—World War Two's most publicized Anglo-American family—Norah Carpenter, William "Red" Thompson and their three red-haired kids—left here today for Pittsburgh by auto, the New York Mirror said in a copyrighted story.

Brick-topped Maureen, Madeleine and Michael, born out of wedlock in England more than two years ago as quadruplets with a brother who died later, bounced and played and slept on the back seat of the car. It was the last lap of their long journey to their new home.

The family was reunited yesterday after a 15-months separation, when Norah and the children arrived by plane from England. Thompson's first wife divorced him last April, and he and Norah plan to be married as quickly as possible.

For Norah Carpenter, today began at dawn, The Mirror said, when the children roused themselves, giggling and happy. Red came in from his room in the same hotel to assist with the dressing rites. Maureen and Madeleine were clad in twin white dresses and Michael in a white suit.

Before eight o'clock they left for Pittsburgh where Red is employed as a pressman in a commercial printing house. Norah was busy watching the new country, which she said was "prettier than England," and so was Michael, who kept his snub nose plastered to the rear window.

First stop was near Newark, N. J. for breakfast. The children, unassisted, ate corn flakes with milk.

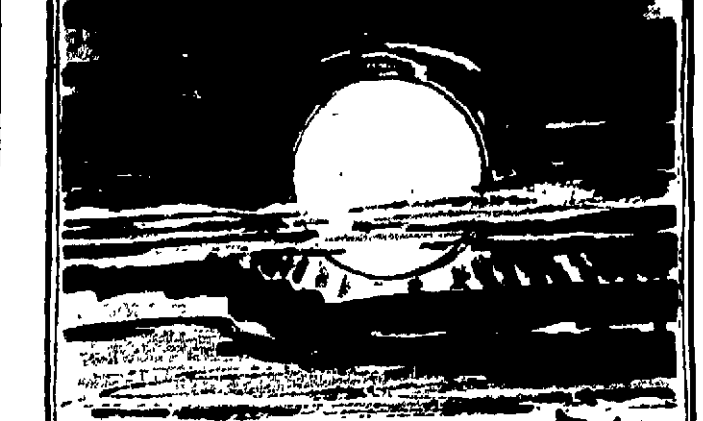

"They've been feeding themselves now for nine months," their mother said. "Nobody has to help them."

The young family hoped to get to Pittsburgh by dinner time, so only necessary stops were planned. But in Clinton, N. J., they took time out for soda pop for the children, who drank with gusto and then wandered in a nearby field to pick flowers.

"I don't feel a bit nervous about meeting Red's family," Norah said. "I've often had mail from them and their letters have always been friendly and kind."

Red's mother has set aside two rooms in her Pittsburgh house for her son's bride and their children.

Tommy Dorsey's New Show Comes to Air Sunday Night

That sentimental gentleman of swing, Tommy Dorsey, known to his fans as just "T. D.," will make his initial appearance at 7:30 p. m. Sunday over NBC. A summer fill-in for Fred Allen, Dorsey comes to the air waves with a brand new show.

Tommy's show will feature a new twist with orchestra leaders from both classical and jazz fields serving as guests. The visiting musician will conduct the Dorsey band in one of his own arrangements. Freddy Martin will be the first guest.

A vicious scheme designed to swindle returned war veterans of their savings by promoting fraudulent small business enterprises, is exposed by "Special Investigator" Frank W. Brock at 7:30 p. m. Sunday over MBS.

Academy award winners, Peggy Ann Garner and Jimmy Dunn co-star in "My Father and I," an original radio drama by True Boardman on the summer "Silver Theatre" at 5 p. m. over CBS.

Conrad Nagel, star of stage and screen, acts as director and master of ceremonies for the dramatic series.

Proof there's some good left in this confused state we call living will be brought out in the program, "We, the People," at 9:30 p. m. Sunday over CBS.

Phil Spitalny and his all-girl orchestra treat their listeners to another "Summer Pop Concert" as the "Hour of Charm" is broadcast at 9 p. m. Sunday over NBC.

The musical portion of the show features "Evelyn" and her magic violin, playing the finale of Mendelssohn's "Concerto in E Minor."

New Trustees Named by NEA

BUFFALO, N. Y., July 6—(AP)—Florence Hale, Darien, Conn., editor of the Grade Teacher and A. Cline Flora, superintendent of schools at Columbia, S. C., today were named members of the board of trustees of the National Education Assn.

The NEA board of directors, concluding the association's annual convention, also elected a member of the budget committee—Everett J. McIntosh, teacher in Brookline, Mass., schools.

Member of the executive committee—L. V. Phillips, Indianapolis, commissioner of high school athletics for the State of Indiana, and Glenn Slow, St. George, Utah, president of Dixid Junior college.

The board of trustees elected Edgar G. Doudna, Madison, Wis., vice chairman of the board of normal regents for Wisconsin, as its chairman and named Flora secretary.

Flora fills an unexpired term of the late Joseph H. Saunders, superintendent of schools at Newport News, Va.

Invitations for the next convention were extended by Detroit, Mich.; Fort Worth, Texas, and Cincinnati, Ohio, but action on the selection was deferred by the executive committee, possibly until next fall.

Mrs. Pearl A. Wanamaker, Olympia, Wash., superintendent of public instruction for the State of Washington, was named head of the National Education Assn yesterday.

Dedication Program Set For Mansfield Airport

(Special To The Lima News) MANSFIELD, July 5—The Army and Navy will give Ohio civilians a look at their wartime aerial weapons here on July 20 and 21 when Mansfield dedicates its new $2,000,000 Class V airport.

Taking part in a busy, two-day sky show which has been incorporated into the dedication program expected to attract more than 100,000 to this city, will be the latest and finest, as well as the largest, planes from both branches of the armed forces.

In all, more than 250 planes, ranging from tiny private ships to the largest military and commercial craft plying the airways, will take part in the event.

One of the highlights will be a flying exhibition by a P-80, Army's jet-propelled "Shooting Star," from Wright Field. Another will be the appearance here of the B-19, the world's largest airplane, exclusive of experimental models.

The Army will also exhibit its C-54, a four-engine transport capable of flying more than 100 fully armed men more than 5,000 miles, non-stop.

Both the Army and the Navy will stage demonstrations of formation flying on both days of the dedication.

Most impressive, at least from the standpoint of the number of ships participating, will be the aerial exhibition of planes of Carrier Group No. 42, off the aircraft carrier U. S. S. Sicily. This unit, consisting of 18 Hellcat fighters and 12 torpedo bombers, will fly to Mansfield from the deck of the carrier, now in Charlestown, R. I., for repairs.

Chinese Relief Moving Faster

WASHINGTON, July 6—(AP)—Faster distribution of supplies in China has brightened the relief situation for that nation, UNRRA Director F. H. LaGuardia reported today.

LaGuardia said a substantial level of inland rivers, which dropped alarmingly during spring droughts, contributed most to the speed-up. For centuries the rivers have been the arteries of inland transportation.

Another factor was improved relations with regional Chinese officials.

"Distribution has been accelerated to such an extent that of a total of 365,000 tons discharged at port cities, 326,000 tons have been transferred to the nation's 15 regional areas," the report said.

PLANS EXPANSION DELPHOS, July 6—Eugene Shreder, implement and auto dealer here, said Saturday an expansion of the present garage building at Fifth-st will be made in the near future.

Sheeter owns a full size lot north of the present location which will be used to provide more floor space. His implement business will remain at S. Main-st location.

Fire Victim Is Remembered

WILSON, Conn., July 6—(UP)—Two police officers bowed silently over a tiny grave today, marked only by the number 1566. They came to remember a pretty girl whom nobody missed.

She was a youngster who was killed in the catastrophic circus fire at Hartford two years ago today which snuffed out 167 other lives, and injured 682.

Five other victims also were unidentified, but with the young-headed blue-eyed child, about 6 years old, had scarcely been touched.

Her photograph was widely distributed, yet not a single inquiry was made which might give a clue as to her identity.

But she wasn't forgotten. Detective Sgt. Thomas C. Barber and Detective Edward T. Lowe placed a basket of flowers on her grave a year ago. Then the nation rallied to provide funds and now the police have a bank account which guarantees floral remembrances each Christmas, Memorial Day, and July 6 for the next 10 years.

Sunday afternoon high spot!
