"Rip" Sewel of the Pirates tossed only one of his famed blooper balls in besting the Braves. 5-2, but one major league owner insists that he'd give $50,000 for the fellow with the odd pitch just for his showmanship value . . invent a new mouse trap. Frank "Stubby" Overmire

named the American League's most valuable player the past two scasons. The southpaw wonder of the Detroit Tigers won his 17th game of the season against, only three setbacks when he dunked the Yankees, 5-1, with a three-hitter. That's a princely percentage of .850-skyrocketing above his .763 on a 29-9 record in 1944 and his 1945 percentage of .735 on 25 wins and nine losses . f4
