A Friendly Suggestion About Highway Travel Over Labor Day Weekend

Labor Day weekend, 1946, will see one of the heaviest travel rushes that highways and bus terminals ever have experienced. So that we may give adequate service to those who must travel during this period, Greyhound earnestly suggests that all who can do so postpone bus trips from Saturday, August 31, through Monday, September 2.

Greyhound is in the business of providing the finest in highway transportation and is taking vigorous steps to overcome travel conditions created by the war. New buses, new terminals, and finer, faster more frequent schedules are on the way.
