While law specifies that excess profits are measured by comparing current taxable year earnings with a statutory excess profits credit, it also provides granting relief in meritorious cases to corporations which bear excessive tax buiden because of inadequate excess profits credit. Bureau of Internal Revenue officials explained.

For the calendar year 1941, Lima Cord Sole and Heel 1cquested an increase in excess profits credit of $64,177.87 from $77,-483 36, of which $34,227.03 was granted, resulting in the $32,-688 64 gross reduction in excess profits tax.
