

'Sentimental Journey' Due In Lima at Lyric Tuesday

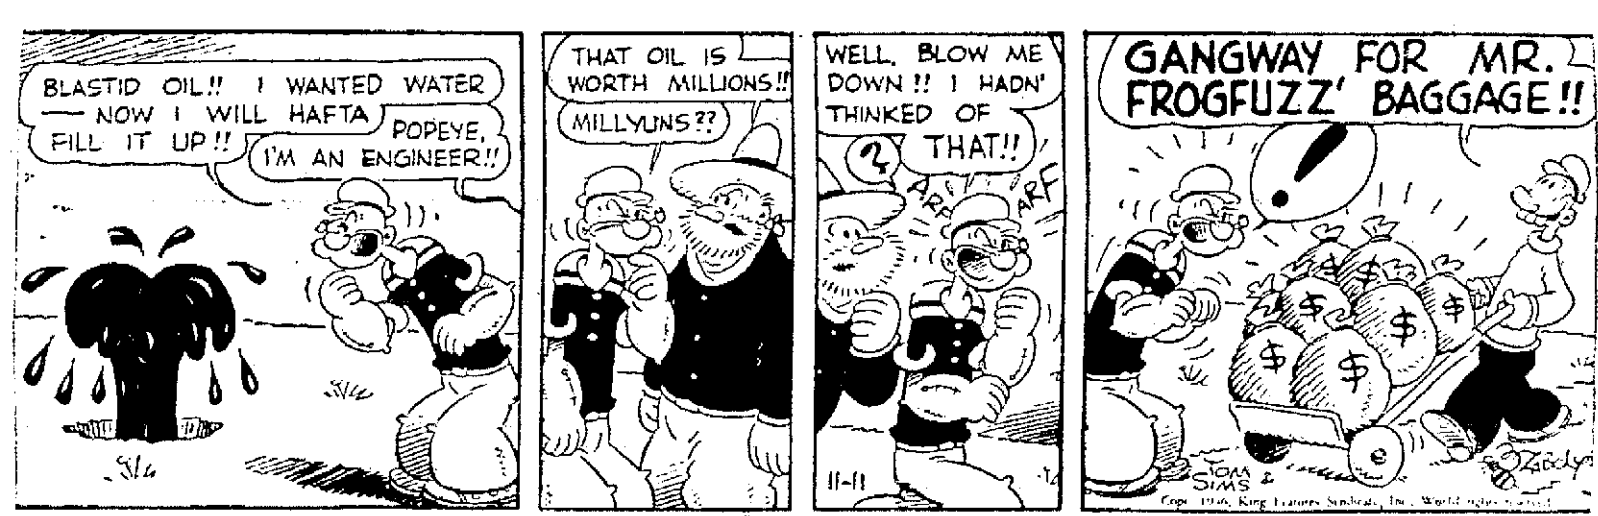

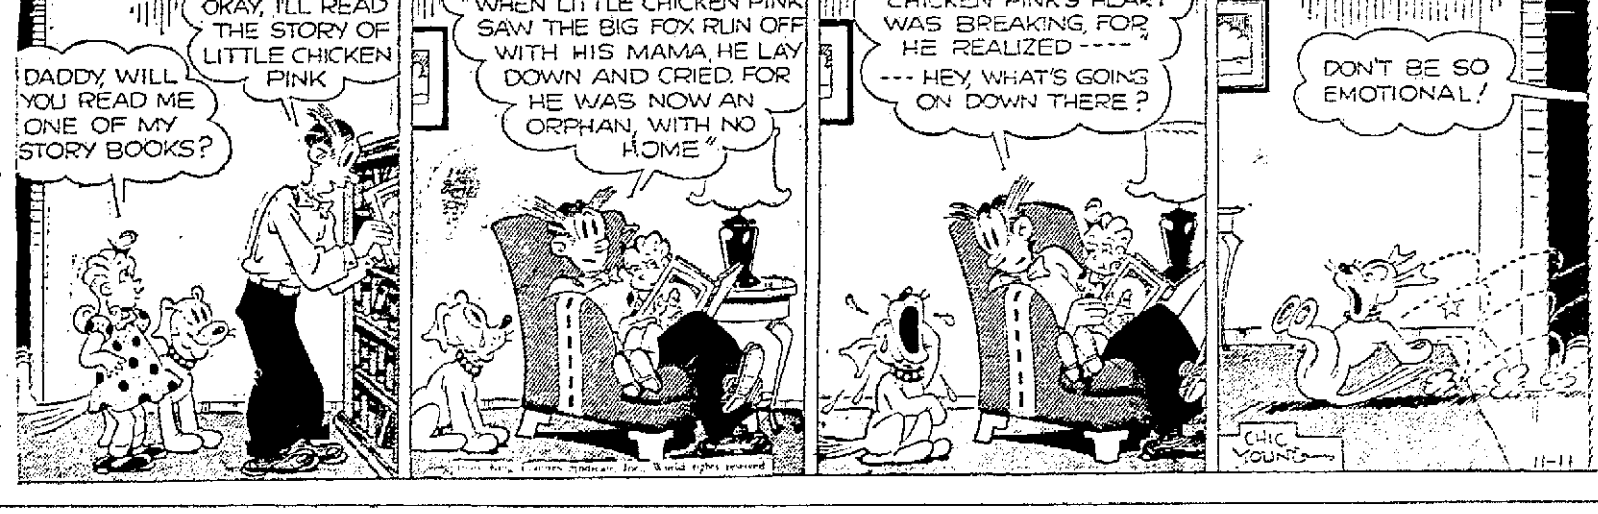

"Sentimental Journey" with Maureen O'Hara and John Payne will open Tuesday at the Lyric Theatre. The story unfolded in the film perhaps is one of the most tragic love stories ever set to celluloid. Miss O'Hara in the role of Payne's wife knows that her death is something of the near future because of a heart ailment. She cannot bring herself to tell her husband of this. Later, however, and as she gets her courage built to the point of telling him—she dies. Sharing the billing will be "One Exciting Week."

Al Jolson Is Featured Star On Armistice Day Broadcast

A special Armistice broadcast, featuring Al Jolson and other stars, will be presented over Mutual in connection with the annual Founder's Day celebration at the campus of Virginia Military Institute at 10:30 p. m. Monday.

"Gallant Journey" is scheduled to be the Radio Theatre's offering at 9 p. m. over CBS. In the radio version of the recently released film Glenn Ford and Janet Blair will re-enact the leading roles they played on the screen.

A man led astray in his sleep is the confused dupe in "Nightmare," a psychological murder story on the "Inner Sanctum" program at 8 p. m. over CBS. Les Tremayne will be guest menace in the tale of a man who dreams of himself in a black and thorny wood, murdering his first wife and makes to find himself killing his second, lying beside him. Howard Barlow will conduct his symphonic orchestra in two great anniversary observances with Christopher Lynch and Eleanor Steber as guest artists on "Voice of Firestone" at 8:30 p. m. over NBC.

"Ozzie and Harriet," one of radio's favorite husband and wife teams, will be starred in the Screen Guild players' production of Frank Craven's charming comedy of the toughest part of a marriage, "First Year," at 10 p. m. over CBS.

A blind beggar picks an odd time of day to ply his trade and suave detective Gregory Hood enters the scene.
