Domestic Trou bles Army Denies Need Solving First

Gloom in Steel Wage Parley Cited by Childs

By MARQUIS CHILDS

WASHINGTON - IF WE ARE TO DO he things in the world that, in Pres. Truman's definition, we must do in order to avert collapse and dictatorship, then we in America must have strength and stability. An America torn by dissension and harassed by economic troubles cannot help

This is the time to take a long, hard look at the domestic situation shaping up just ahead of us. In many industries a showdown on wage negotiations is coming up

STEEL IS A SIGNIFICANT EXAMPLE. In January, by mutual agreement, the United States Steel Corp. and the United Steel Workers agreed that the wage contract then in force should be continued for two and a half months beyond the end of the contract. This was a reasonable compromise intended to give both sides a chance to work out details of a new contract.

Since that agreement, only a few meetings have been held between he company and the union. Those meetings were not concerned with living costs in relation to wages. Union negotiators are said to have come out of those meetings feeling that the steel company wanted to cut back union privileges and union quarantees virtually to the old non-union days.

That the company should CHILDS feel a new confidence would not be surprising Many of the labor proposals now before congress would cut the unions down to a status so feeble that they would be almost certain to melt away. A great deal of the talk out of Washington is along the line that the unions the extremists mean that they must be reduced to impotence.

LEADERS IN THE STEEL UNION, thich has been kept free of Communist infiltration and influence, are pessimistic. They are wondering how they can go to their membership with the kind of proposals put up by the company, even if they were of a mind to accept those proposals.

Their gloom is not lightened when they reflect that thus far the question of a wage increase has not even been considered. And time is rapidly running out at the moment when new and drastic price increases are hitting the consumer where he lives.

This last is perhaps the most serious side ated. But it is hard to negotiate away a costof-living rise that makes it almost impossible for the housewife to stretch the family budget to cover food and rent.

REP. HELEN GAHAGEN DOUGLAS OF California dramatized that fact the other day when she brought a market basket full of groceries onto the floor of the house. She told members she had paid $15 in a lowprice chain store for the butter, eggs, meat and so on that the basket contained. Last June, she told the house, it would have cost $10 to buy those same items. And she brought the comparative sales slips with her to prove

Mrs. Douglas quoted a Bureau of Labor Statistics release showing that wholesale food prices had gone up 3.1 per cent for the week ending Mar. 6.

Then she went on to point out that in the four years preceding last June, the overall food price had risen on the average only 15 per cent. In the eight months since June when in effect price controls were destroyed, the rise has been 30 to 35 per cent on the Congress must act before that date to Congress must act before that date to save rent controls. Sen. Robert A. Taft has said that action on rents will come shortly ular leather sole. Its development

"You certainly have no rent-control program when you talk in terms of court en-forcement," Mrs. Douglas said, "And that's what is being talked about here in congress. Remember that 50,000,000 families will be affected.

"If they wake up May 1 with no real rent controls but with only the promise of a court-enforcement program to be passed by congress at some indefinite date in the fuure, what will happen? Landlords will raise their rents from one end of the country to the other. Not the Republican-proposed 10 Turns Up Rarities per cent but 25, 50, yes, even in some cases 100 per cent."

THESE ARE THE REALITIES WE HAD better face. A strike is a divisive thing. But sometimes strikes may grow out of the pressure of circumstances even though no one may want a strike.

Trucks Wasted

Jeeps in Field Held Part of Reserve, Too

WASHINGTON — (U.P.) — Under-secretary of War Kenneth C. Royall said today that the trucks and jeeps the public sees standing in open field at army posts are part of a reserve needed to meet army requirements up to June 30, 1949.

He said people who have the idea that such vehicles are going to rust and ruin are mistaken because "they don't have all the facts".

"The army will sell or declare surplus any truck in danger of deteriorating beyond the point of usefulness," Royall insisted.

usefulness," Royall insisted.
He said the army needs its reserve of 154,000 vehicles for regular army use. It also has 58,000 for national guard and organied reserve use. Stored in Open Fields

Most of the vehicles are stored in open fields, but Royall dis-closed that there is a regular program to prevent deterioration.

Only 102,000 of the regular army vehicles so stored are in condition to run immediately. remainder are in an economically eparable condition.
"Of those not ready to run, our test is whether they could be re-paired and put in running condi-tion for 30 per cent or less of their original cost," Royall said. "If they will become obsolete or deteriorate before they can be used, they must be declared surplus." Royall said the army explained its policy to the appropriations variety sub-committees and other committees at the last congress, and was not advised of any disagreement with the policy. Appropriations in Doubt

"Even if we had plenty of money to buy new vehicles, it would be economically sound to keep the ones we have for a reasonable time, so as to get all the use out of them possible," Royall argued. He said also that now policy, in that the army did not believe it could get appropriations to buy new vehicles and felt it had better hold onto the ones it Special Program Royall estimated the army was still short about 208,000 vehicles to meet the initial requirements of the present program for the national guard, organized reserves and R. O. T. C. up to June 30, 1949.

Royall explained that the vehimany of them not perfectly adaptable to civilian requirements, and therefore on the civilian market would not bring what they were worth to the army.

Vets Well Represented In Auto Industry

DETROIT—(U.P.)—The employment rolls of automotive plants in the Detroit area are taking on a strongly GI flavor, on a strongly GI havon, according to a survey by the Michigan employment service.

Nearly one-fourth of the employes in automotive factories in and around Detroit, Flint, Pontiac, and Ypsilanti are ex-service en and women. Officials expect the percentage to increase as the industry expands, because at many plants more than 50 per cent of recent hirings have been veterans. The newest automo-tive company in the Detroit area Kaiser-Frazer, has provided employment for 2,900 veterans.
