McKENNEY ON BRIDGE THREE SPADES MADE BY FORCING A RUFF

By WILLIAM E. McKENNEY

I had the pleasure of playing in a recent tournament with Iwin Fisher of Baltimore. I consider him an exceptionally fine card player. My game with him confirmed that opinion. Here is one of the hands that Fisher played.

The king and ace of diamonds held the first two tricks for West, then he shifted to the queen of clubs. Fisher (South) won this in dummy with the king and took two rounds of trump, winning the second round in his own hand. Then he led the six of clubs and played the eight-spot from dummy. East won the trick and returned a heart. Fisher won with the ace and led a low club. West put on the nine-spot, Fisher won in dummy and East showed out.

At this point Fisher led dummy's low club and trumped it. Then he made the play which he said gave him his only possible chance—one chance in a thousand, but it worked. He led a small heart and West had to win with the king. Now there was no way to keep Fisher from getting a ruff and a discard, as West had to lead a diamond. This gave him his contract of three-odd.

TEEN TOPICS

Gals, this one is for you! Perhaps you don't need any advice about party glad rags. Or maybe you do. It's decided to lay down good gold for a dress that's a flop. So buy with an open eye.

Clothes that are too tight, too bare, too flashy or too fussy! They can ruin your evening, but definitely! You have to feel comfortable in your duds, in order to act poised and self-confident.

Too-sophisticated gag-rags are humorous, not glamorous. And too many frills and fur-bowls make you look like a state cream puff. Steer a middle course and pick a neckline, waistline and skirtline that suits your age and your figure.

And watch for accessories. High heels will spoil your dancing technique. If you're not used to 'em, Cheap costume jewelry is out of place.

with formal clothes. Flashy trimmings—sequins, beads and feathers—look gaudy and tawdry on teenagers.

Go heavy with your hair-brush, gals, light with make-up tools. It's just come to be a stiff, tricky hair-do and an over-dose of rouge and mascara.

Simple, easy-to-care-for clothes, coiffures and complementary stick to them, my girl. Then you can relax and be yourself.
