GOES BACK... to school

The problems of the veteran who wants a university education are unique. He's an older man, this ex-soldier of ours; he has a wife and a child to support, housing is pathetically inadequate so his young wife struggles against tremendous odds to create a decent family and social life, and lastly, he is dependent upon government subsistence allowances which may come to him late and which are obviously inadequate to provide for himself and his family. The letters, below, attest to the help your Red Cross has given the veteran-student.

ELDON M. STENJEM, Mgr., V. A., Sub-Regional Off.

"You have made it possible for veterans to remain in school by assisting them while their cases were being adjusted for their subsistence allowance and certificate of eligibility. You have assisted in filing claims...you have made it possible for us to bring together the County Service Officers and other cooperating agencies...which has been a means to a unified cooperative effort in our common service to veterans."

E.B. FRED, President, University of Wisconsin

"At the University of Wisconsin we have reason to be aware of the importance of the helpful work which the Red Cross carries on among our students. particularly the veterans. The skillful representatives of the Red Cross have helped an untold number of our students to help themselves. The University of Wisconsin is grateful for the part the Red Cross has played in the educational scheme at the University."
