The nation's on its way toward a population loaded with persons in their first and second childhoods. This will mean tens of millions of specialized customers.

Merchants and manufacturers have begun to emphasize goods for the kids. Now they would be well advised to fatten those lines which appeal to the eld-criv.

In thinking of the aged, we are considering individuals who have retired from much or all of the hurly-burly of active life. Social security and the increasing number of other pension systems are adding steadily to their numbers.

In a grimmer way, much of the pension is the specialist in the maladies of advancing age. — Chicago Sun and Times.

Today's hand was played by Douglass Andress, secretary of the Montreal Bridge League. His partner was L. H. Benjamin, the treasurer. I do not think West could be criticized for doubling. Nevertheless Andress made five. He trumped the opening diamond load in dummy with the four of brearts and cashed the ace and king of clubs. When he led the club queen, West trumped with the ten of hearts, Andress over-trumped with the king, and ruffed the nine of diamonds in dummy. The ten of clubs was led back and when West trumped with the jack of hearts, Andress discarded his four of spades.

west trumped with the jack of spades, which was won in dummy and the ace of hearts was cashed. The seven of clubs was led, West discarded the six of spades and North the jack of spades and North the jack of spades. Dummy's deuce of spades was trumped by North with the nine of hearts and the ten of diamonds trumped in dummy with the eight of hearts. The five of spades was trumped with the three of hearts.

Thus West won only the queen and jack of hearts.

A. The Column Club was an exclusive "literary club," organized on Oct. 10, 1825, by men prominent in the literary and artistic lite of New York, many of them graduates of Columbia University. The name was suggested by the wooden column which stood in the middle of the Chapter Room in the basement of Christ Church, where the first meetings were held. Q. How many children are attending school in this country? F. T. Answer to Question No. 1

F. T.

A. The Office of Education says that according to the latest 1947-48 estimate 32,000,000 children and young people are attending school. This includes trending school childrengarten through college.

Answer to question No. 1
False. There cannot be too many beautiful women. I have rehaps done more work than anyone to show that beauty and brains tend to go together. There is a general tendency for well-kindergarten through college.

nights. She replied, "I don't like to steal or run away, but I've got to show mother she can't handle me." Dr. Adler concludes, (paraphrased) "When children lie, steal or run away, it is either from fear or revenge."
