Q. Were there ever any at-tempts to assassinate Queen Victoria? C. D. D. A. The queen survived five-altacks—on June 10, 1840; May 30, 1842; July 3, 1842; May 19, 1849, and March 2, 1882. Q. Is there an authentic painting of the Virgin Mary in existence? W. E. B.

A. Mention of a supposedly authentic picture of the Madon-na occurred in bistory shortly after the Council of Ephesus (A. D. 431). The Empress Eu-docia, while traveling in the Holy Land, sent home a picture of the Virgin Mary and Child which was placed in a church in Constantinople. This picture is supposed to have been paint-ed from life. During the siege of 1204 it was transferred to Verice and placed in the Church of St. Mark.

McKENNEY ON BRIDGE

By WILLIAM E. MCKENNEY America's Card Authority.

A VERY INTERESTING new A VERY INTERESTING new deck of cards was placed on my desk a few weeks ago. It was made by the Forcolar Playing Card Company, each unit a dif-ferent color. I have seen many new ideas in cards in the past 20 years. All of them went by the wayside except the narrow deck we use for bridge. How-ever, even with the narrow deck players frequently missort. The new Forcolar deck should elimi-nate many revokes.

the acc, and Cushing refused to ruif, discarding a club West came back with the jack of spades, and Cushing discarded the nine of clubs. Now a small club was led by Wost, Cushing filnessed the queen, and then he saw that what he had thought was the ace of bearts was actually the ace of diamonds. He pulled four rounds of trumps and the balance of his tricks were good. If he had ruifted the first spade, he might have found it more difficult to make even five hearts.
