Q. How long does a reservoir remain useful?—P. E. R.
A Reservoirs frequently become useless after a comparatively short time because they fill up with sand and silt. There is, however, wide variation in the indicated life of reservoirs now in existence and as improvement is made in the control of erosion their life will be increased. From studies made of reservoirs in various parts of the country, it appears that a life of 250 years may be regarded as fairly substantial.

Answer to Question No. 2

That they are evasive and not frank about everything. Psychologist Clifford Adams in his splendid book, "How to Pick a Mate," (should be required reading in all high schools) says (paraphrased): "This is probably the most crucial trait for married happiness ever found. The evasive person won't face reality or accept responsibility. He blames others, exaggerates, often lies, is often depressed and lacks integrity. Evasiveness is bad for both hut worse in the woman."

The other night Charles Lochridge, secretary of the Vander-bilt Cup Committee, said, "Mac, I finally found the dream hand." Here it is.

Here it is.

Lochridge (South) won the opening lead of the queen of spades with the ace and led the queen of clubs. West played the four-spot and East the five. The play of the five gave West the tipoff that Lochridge held just the king-ougen lack.

tipoff that Lochridge held just the king-queen-jack.
He continued with the jack of clubs, West went in with the ace and his partner played the three.
Now the club suit was established, but Lochridge still had to eash the king and get into dummy. In order to try to kill the entry into dummy West made the rare play known as the Deschapelles. Coup. He led the king of hearts.

the rare play known as the Deschapelles Coup. He led the king of hearts. Now came Charlle's dream play. He did not go up with dummy's ace. He played the three-spot, and from his own hand threw the queen of hearts. When West continued with the six of hearts, Lochridge finessed the ten in dummy. When it held he led the ace of hearts, discarding the king of clubs from his own hand, then cashed dummy's three good clubs.

I said, "Gharlie, suppose that East had held the jack of hearts," But Charlie replied, "I told you this was my dream hand."

ELATION?

Czech workers labored an extra day Sunday "to demonstrate their elation over the victory of progressive forces" in the Communist coup. Without pay, of course. Pay isn't necessary when the "progressive forces" have won; When the "People's revolution" took power in Germany. It was not were forces" have won. When the "People's revolution" took power in Germany, it was not necessary to pay people to turn out for Nazi celebrations or to work extra for the Fuehrer. Compared with the Czech Communists, however, Hitler was a slow operator. He took more time to show Germans the exact taste of the victory they had won. As they bent over their machines Sunday, how meny Czechs—how many union members who accepted the Communist promises —felt, not elation, but dread of things to come?—St. Louis PostDispatch.

That is the fate met by a relaw about proper dress in halls of learning. These efforts contribute more to the entertainment of newspaper readers than to the instruction of students. For, much as one occasionally sympathizes with the urge to refrom some adolescent oddity in dress, we fear the school men go against nature. One recalls bans on bobbed hair, on overalls (girls are the usual targets), on lipstick and sweaters. Public acceptance of the style shortly makes the new rule silly. NOW! Learn the PIANO!

Play with both hands from the first lesson!

ERE'S a new, fast, casy way to learn the piano. In a public demonstration in Cleveland, Ohio, before the Music Educators' National Conference, ten hospitalized soldiers sat down at pianos. None had ever taken a piano lesson. The teacher showed them how a tune could be played. After ten minutes the men played it with one hand. Ten minutes later they were playing it with both hands. Next, they transposed the tune into several different keys, 40 minutes after the lesson had begun the class was performing "Merrily We Roll Along" with both hands!
