SENATOR SOAPER SAYS:

Russians, backing up in Berlin, haven't been interviewed on what they think of our new bold look.

The Maine baby who walked at the age of nine days can be a great help in case the sitter needs a glass of water.

This "new presentation of the generalized theory of gravitation" by Doc Einstein may help to explain the gravity of the world situation, which seems to become heavier, as time goes by.

The case of Arabian twins named Bren and Tommy for guns is unique as far as we know, unless you count Lucius Beebe.

"I see no threat to us from Russian Communism today," says Mr. Wallace—an unusually lucid utterance, coming from Hank, except that he doesn't say who's "us."

Among the aspirants, they still don't come any smarter that Bricker of Ohio who, when the crackpot took a shot at him with a pistol, remarked "there must be something wrong with that fellow."

An ex-battler for the vote for women feels now it may have been a mistake. On the contrary, the girls are so well satisfied with equal rights they want more.

Any election hereafter held in Czechoslovakia—now that the Reds have taken the precaution of grabbing the country—would be one of those coming events that cast their shadows behind.

The miner, according to his contract, need only work when he is "willing and able." Thus the issue in brief appears to be, is that a strike, or spring fever?

We don't know what it is about a $20 bill nowadays, but you can't get any wear out of it.

Q. What was the average length of life in ancient Greece and Rome? B. Q.

A. In ancient Greece, the average age at death was only 29.4 years while in Rome the average length of life was only 25 years.

Q. When were blue kid shoes first placed on the market? C. M.

A. Navy blue kid shoes were introduced on the market in 1925.

Q. For which member of the Roosevelt family is the Roosevelt Hospital in New York named? L. C. N.

A. In the grounds there is a monument erected to the memory of James Henry Roosevelt (1800-1883), "the generous founder of the hospital."

Q. In which of his plays did Shakespeare use the expression "flaming youth"? O. W. S.

A. The phrase is in "Hamlet," Act III, Sc. 4: "To flaming youth let virtue be as wax, And melt in her own fire."

Q. Why have the tides in the vicinity of Stuart, Fla., been running so much higher than usual since last fall? B. F.

A. The Coast and Geodetic Survey says that records from its primary tide stations show that, during the period in question, both high and low waters were somewhat higher than their seasonal average along the whole South Atlantic coast of this country. This probably resulted from a rise in sea level in this area rather than from coastal subsidence. All the causes which may contribute to such variations in the mean level of the sea have not been evaluated, but differences in prevailing winds, barometric pressure, differences in salinity, and deflections arising from the oceanic circulation may be important factors.

Q. Is most of the fur produced in this country obtained from wild animals or from animals in captivity? J. S. R.

A. Most of it is obtained from wild animals. Only about one-sixth of the fur produced comes from animals raised in captivity. These furs are chiefly silver fox, mink and their mutations.

Let's Explore Your Mind

By ALBERT EDWARD WIGGAM, D. Sc.

Answer to Question No. 1

No. After years of counseling students in love and married couples in trouble, Psychologist Henry Bowman says, "I have found in counseling people about marriage, that the one who claims to be in love with two persons is usually not in love with either, and frequently marries a third person not in question at the time. True love is centered on one person. Infatuation may swing from one to another.

Answer to Question No. 2

No. A study of 301 most famous geniuses of the past 400 years, by Psychologist Catherine Cox Miles, showed that even in childhood and youth they made very accurate estimates of their mental powers. Another study of college students by Psychologist Milton Blum showed that brilliant students estimated their abilities more accurately than did the average students.

Answer to Question No. 3

No. Psychologists Shellow and Harmon found from prolonged study, there is practically no danger in praising workers too much, and very great danger in praising them too little. From years of work with foremen they found an ounce of encouragement worth many pounds of criticism or even neglect to give praise. This is true all through life.

Your SUCCESS IN MARRIAGE Tests

Are you a good risk as a marriage partner?

Can you be happy with the partner of your choice?

What are the signs that foretell the success of any marriage?

Two of America's outstanding sociologists spent years searching out this vital information and now Dr. Wiggam has secured it for YOU. With it you can score yourself and your partner on the important factors of marriage success.

McKENNEY ON BRIDGE

By WILLIAM E. McKENNEY
America's Card Authority.

A SURPRISING number of people throughout the United States make a very good living teaching bridge. In the past teachers' conventions have been held by bridge authorities who published books. Ely Culbertson used to hold a couple every year. Charles H. Goren is holding one at the La Salle Hotel in Chicago May 11-13.

I would like to present today's hand at Goren's convention and see if the teachers run into the bidding snag the experts met with.

The snag comes on the third bid. Everybody agrees that South should open the bidding with one diamond. A few experts would like to bid two hearts with the North hand, but most agree that a jump forcing bid should not be

North: ♠ K Q 9 2 ♥ A K Q J 8 4 ♦ 6 ♣ J 4
West: ♠ A 8 4 ♥ 9 7 ♦ 10 9 7 ♣ 10 7 6 3 2
East: ♠ 10 6 5 ♥ 6 3 ♦ Q 5 4 2 ♣ Q 9 8 5
South (Dealer): ♠ J 7 3 ♥ 10 5 2 ♦ A K J 8 3 ♣ A K

Rubber—Neither vul.

2 ♥	Pass	2 ♠	Pass
3 ♣	Pass	4 N. T.	Pass
5 ♥	Pass	6 ♥	Pass

made without two controls. Therefore they accept the bid of one heart as correct.

Now what should South do? Should he bid three diamonds and have his partner rebid hearts or bid spades, then have to go into three no trump?

Nearly everybody has a different bid to make at this point. Peter Leventritt and I more or less agreed that we would bid two hearts over one heart, in which case North should bid two spades.

Now South knows that North has a tremendous hand, and it is important for him to learn something about the club holding. When South bids three clubs he shows the ace of clubs and at the same time tells North that he is willing to go along for a slam try.

With that information North can bid four no trump if he wants to make sure that South does not have three aces. South responds with five hearts showing two aces and North knows he is off an ace.

In rubber bridge it is agreed that six hearts is the correct response, but the sporting player in tournament bridge who wants to take a little gamble can pretty nearly count 12 tricks at no trump.
