diamond with the ace, or should it be trumped in dummy?

It was generally agreed that the king of diamonds should be trumped in dummy with the deuce of spades, and the next play should be the deuce of clubs, trumping in the West hand with the three of spades.

Then a small spade should be Then a small spade should be led to dummy's ace and South's

Now should declarer lead the king of clubs and let it ride? Analysis shows that the cor-rect play at this point is to lead the three of clubs and trump it the three of clubs and trump it with the queen of spades, then policy to buy time with lead the seven of spades and win it in dummy with the nine. Lead the five of clubs and trump arth.

Lead the five of clubs and trump it with the king of spades. Now—Dr. Paul F. Douglas, president, the ace of clubs drops, and declarer makes seven.
