Otchoeck. In the south, these animals are generally called groundhogs because of their burrowing habits and in some localities the name "whistlepigs" is applied to them partly because of their whistling call and partly because hunters whistle to attract their attention. Q. Where are the highest and lowest lakes in the world? J. L. A. The highest lake of any considerable size is Titicaca in South America, 12,500 feet above sea level. The Dead Sea in Palesti : is the lowest, lying 1290 feet below sea level.

Q. Did the people of the ancient world kiss each other?

H. L. .

A. The ancient Romans showed their good will to each other by kissing, and the early Christians made the custom art of their religious ceremony. The "kiss of religious ceremony. The "kiss of peace" became a part of the mass in both the Roman and Eastern Catholic churches. The kiss as an expression of love and affection probably did not develop until the Sixth Century.

Tournament players of New Jersey have done a great deal in development of tournament bridge. Back in 1930 they sold the American Contract Bridge League the idea of holding the summer session of the national tournament in Asbury Park. Now that it is available again Davis F. Geortner of South Orange, president of the New Jersey Bridge League, tells me that they are going to hold their annual New Jersey Shore tournament there May 14-16.

Geortner handled the play of today's hand very well in a recent New Jersey tournament. He won the opening lead of the king of hearts in dummy, and saw that he had a sure heart loser, a sure diamond loser, and a possible club and spade loser. And what was he going to do with the two diamonds?

Answer to Question No. 1

True. Women's old hard jobs were weaving, making clothes, canning, caring for meats, etc. But as soon as the factory made them easy by machinery, with pleasant surroundings, wash rooms, good lunches, short hours, etc., they suddenly became men's jobs. Such hard, ornery jobs as dish washing, sweeping, mopping, caring for children, sewing on buttons the men have burst off yelling at ball games and prize fights are still graciously left to the "dear little woman at home."

Answer to Question No. 2

No. Yale nutrition chemist, Dr. W. H. Haggard, has shown the likelihood of accidents steadily increases according to the time since your last meal. Your tendency to make mistakes and have accidents increases more rapidly between lunch and dinner than between breakfast and lunch. He says the no-breakfast plan is exceedingly dangerous, especially
