ANSWERS TO

Q. What is the farthest north locality to which mail could be sent? Is it Barrow in Alaska?—A. F. P.

A. The Post Office Department says that so far as it can determine, the place farthest north in the world where a letter could be sent is Khatanga in Siberia, U. S. S. R. This has a latitude of 71.58 degrees N. The latitude of Barrow, Alaska, is 71.18 degrees N.

Q. What is the frequency of premature births?—C. M. T. A. At present, one out of every 20 babies is born prematurely, and each year almost 30,000 premature babies die before they are a month old.

Q. Did Julius Caesar have hobies?—H. McC.

A. John Buchan, in his chap-A. John Buchan, in his chapter on the youth of Caesar, says that Caesar acquired "two hobbies which never left him, astronomy and an eager curiosity about the undiscovered regions of the globe."

Q. Is it a common practice to guard the graves of the Presidents of the United States?—

A. The graves of all former Presidents of the United States are not guarded. Whether or not there is a guard at the grave de pends on circumstances.

Perhaps sheer industry and devotion to one's job are virtues "Q. Where did the game of "cat's cradle" originate? — L. R. P.

A. It is not known. String games, like "cat's cradle" are an ethnological curiosity. They appear to be well known, in a variety of patterns, to all races and are found in the islands of the Pacific, the Far North, and in Europe. The Japanese have them in various forms, and they are known to the American Indians.

Q. At what depth below the surface do earthquakes originate?—J. B. K.

A. Usually between five and 25 miles. The greatest depths so far observed have been about 150 miles, but there is reason to believe that earthquakes may originate as deep as 500 miles.

The only way to achieve this is by refusing to tip. It's up to you to tell your employer we are willing to pay higher prices but no more tips." Most workers seem to agree with this, but it will take a lot of nerve by the tipper. Answer to Question No. 3

No. Psychologists Else Fren-kel-Brunswik and R. N. Sanford kei-Brunswik and R. N. Sanford found college girls with strong antirace prejudice were "highly conventional in dress, manners and appearance and very anxious about their social position." Those free from prejudice were much less concerned about dress, style, beauty aids, etc. and their social position. You could pretty well spot the two by their looks. ON BRIDGE By WILLIAM E. McKENNEY America's Card Authority

By Jay Alan

THE Midwest Conference tour THE Midwest Conference tournament at Cincinnati was one of the largest tournaments I have attended for a long time. The Cincinnati unit of the American Contract Bridge League entertained royally. Cincinnati is the home of the United States Playing Card Company, and between sessions on the last day of the tournament, that company the tournament, that company gave a buffet dinner for contestants.

"Wrecked on the rocks of dis-tribution" is a remark often heard at tournaments, and during the dinner that expression was used in a discussion of to-day's hand by M. A. Lightman of Memphis, Tenn., former holder

♠K82

of the world championship pair

title.

After winning the opening lead of the ace of spades West shifted to the 10 of clubs. Lightman won this in dummy with the ace, and cashed the king of spades, discarding the king of hearts from his own hand. Now the best that West could do was make three diamond tricks and the ace of spades. The interesting point in this hand was not in making three dlamonds doubled, but the fact that if Lightman had passed two no trump doubled he undoubtedly would have made that contract also. It is likely that West would have led the three of contract also. It is likely that West would have led the three of hearts rather than the ace—at least the West player against Lightman said he would have led the three. In that case Lightman would win with the king, cash six clubs and the ace of diamonds for eight tricks diamonds for eight tricks.
