Short Wave Soothes Prospective Father

BINGHAMTON, N. Y.—(U.P.)—Randall Hitchcock, of nearby Chenango Bridge, was sitting in a hotel in Bogota, Colombia, as snipers' bullets whizzed around during the recent rioting there. That was bad enough, but Hitchcock was even more worried about his wife back home. She was expecting a baby. As the dismal hours passed, he heard spluttering from the small short-wave radio set he'd carried with him. "Randall Hitchcock, Randall Hitchcock," called a voice. "If you're listening, your wife has had a fine baby boy and you're a proud father. Mother and baby doing nicely." The voice was that of Wolfe Wolfinger, an amateur radio operator at Hillcrest, near Hitchcock's home. "It was 'the biggest moment of my life,'" said Hitchcock, despite the danger from the bullets and mobs of the revolution.

SKELETONS FOUND

SAN FRANCISCO—(U.P.)—Two skeletons of Stone age men and collections of stone tools have been found by the University of California African expedition. It is reported by Wendell Phillips, leader of the northern party of the expedition. The skeletons were recovered on the west side of Lake Rudolf. The discoveries may throw additional light on the spread of early men and their cultures, Phillips said.
