Muriel Lewis, who played the lead in Wisconsin Players' production of "Joan of Lorraine" a couple of seasons ago, is director of "All My Sons," which the Belfry Players are presenting this week at Williams Bay. The show opened July 15 and will continue through July 24.

Franklin Cook, who also attended the University of Wisconsin, alternates with Miss Lewis in directing the summer playhouse's presentations.

The group opened its 15th season in June with "The Whole World Over." The second play was "Years Ago," the current play is the season's third.

Others billed are "The Voice of the Turtle," July 29 through Aug. 7; "Another Part of the Forest," motif, and the artist has expressed a belief in the place of religion in art.

"Entirely in the graphic field is the work of Kurtz, who has specialized in his graduate work in wood engraving. His Canterbury Ghosts series, which was done for his masters thesis, contains 18 engravings, several of which are in the Union show. Kurtz likes the field of graphics because of its simplicity and directness of expression.

"Specializing in design, Storey expects the present trend of naturalism and realism in art to go out of style and a greater appreciation of pattern to be the future development. In the fall, Storey will teach sculpture and design at Pennsylvania College for Women, Pittsburgh, in addition to a course integrating art, literature and music.

"Wilde, a native of Milwaukee, will be an instructor in drawing at the university next semester. Wilde recently won a first prize for a self portrait in the Wisconsin State Centennial Exhibition of Contemporary Wisconsin Art at Milwaukee. This exhibit will be shown in the Union galleries beginning Nov. 13. Wilde's work is the most personal of the four artists, and shows his skill as both a draftsman and a painter."

New Recording Hits the Jackpot for Jerry Wayne

By EDITH GWYNN

HOLLYWOOD — Wanna know what one record, "You Can't Be True, Dear" has done for Jerry Wayne in the past months? Wayne, who thought he was finished, signed for a Columbia network airer, a television series, months of night club bookings, and several theater engagements — and at very fancy figures, all life of Edward Steimetz, the electrical wizard who died in this country a few years ago.

About a year ago, Virginia Mayo was saying she wanted to work her way up, via good acting parts, to becoming a top dramatic actress — and she certainly will soon film "Autumn" the Somer Maugham story which is to be directed by Gregory Ratoff, who directed her in "Moss Rose" in good old Hollywood. This "British picture" is to be made in Italy.

Maybe it's a bit early, but since he seems to be lost in the publicity shuffle, it's about time someone reports the wonderful reports on Charlie Bickford's performance in the yet-to-be released "Johnny Belinda," which stars Jane Wyman. Bickford has twice been nominated for Oscars ("Song of Bernadette" and "Farmer's Daughter") but from unbiased people who've seen same, this should be his third and winning bid.
