Q. Are the homes specially de-signed for paralyzed veterans available only to men who served in World War II? N. L. C.

A. Eligible for these homes are veterans of war or peace-time service in the armed forces since April 21, 1898, who have a permanent-total service-connect-ed disability due to a spinal cord disability due to a spinal cord disease or injury resulting in paralysis of the legs and the lower part of the body. Special features incorporated in the homes are ramps, instead of steps or stairs; wider halls and doorways, larger rooms, special bathroom fixtures and arrangement, and, in some cases, exercising facilities.

ON BRIDGE By WILLAM E. MCRENNEY

Recently I had the pleasure of visiting at the home of Charles Lochridge of New York City, secretary of the Vanderbilt Cup committee and one of the best and most popular bridge players in the country. Another guest was John Rau, Anyone who has been playing contract since 1928 or 1929 will remember the name of John Rau. He was the youngster who introduced psychic Ster. who introduced psychic bidding. While talking about some of the old-timers in bridge, the name of P. Hal Sims came up. Rau remarked that one of Sims' great points was to make good cards and bad breaks work for him, and today's hand illustrates that particular point.

South's bid of three spades is a good one, because he does not want a spade lead. It might knock out his spade control quickly, and, if he lost another trick, the opponents could cash two spade tricks. Also, the

the spade finesse." But Rau pointed out that the correct thing to do is to draw three rounds of clube, stripping both the North' and South hands of that suit, then go over to dummy's king of diamonds and ruff a diamond. South knows the jump to a slam was made immediately. The three-spade bid may not have prevented a spade lead, but West had a possible spade opening, and after the spade bid the natural diamond opening where the queen of hearts is, so all he has to do is to lead a heart, throw East in the lead and East is forced either to give was made. South won this with the ace, cashed the ace and king of hearts-and found a bad break in trumps. Some players migh't say, into the king jack of spades. "There is nothing to worry South thereby makes a bad about. All I have to do is to take break in trumps work for him.
