Direct from a run of a year on Broadway and a season on tour which embraced Chicago, "Burlesque," starring Bert LaHR, will play the Parkway theater Wednesday, Sept. 8.

This play is a story of show business. As "Show Boat" relates the luring life of a trouping company on the river, as "Stage Door" weighed the aspirations of starlets, and as "The Royal Family" beheld the foibles of the lily, "Burlesque" glamorizes the lusty life of the burlesque wheel. "Skid," played by Bert LaHR, is a burlesque comedian who tours the circuit with his wife Bonnie (this part is enacted by Hollywood's Rochelle Hudson). Scouted by Broadway managers, Skid receives an offer to grace a revue on Broadway. The second and third acts concern his successful sojourn on the legitimate stage, and his eventual homecoming to burlesque.

RADIO: Bob Earle of WKOW has a busy week lined up. In addition to his own shows, "Man on the Street" mornings and "Moonlight Serenade" nights — he is temporarily replacing Pat Herson on "Harmony House" at 4 p. m. Herson is vacationing in Chicago.
Beginning Oct. 1, Smilin' Ed McConnell will be on the ABC network Friday afternoons. And beginning Sept. 23, the Abbott and Costello show will shift to Thursdays.
When the Fred Allen program returns, Kenny Delmar will drop the "Sen Claghorn" role in favor and probably even get a profitable run in the French capital, where American entertainment always goes well.

If that first step proved successful, it was Duke's idea that the show then should be moved to London, where there would be the chance of another profitable engagement, at the same time providing the opportunity for any changes necessary to prepare it further for Broadway.
Eventually would come transfer to New York of a show already ready for and with profits in the bank.

Wallis Buys 'Thelma Jordan'; Barbara Stanwyck to Be Star

By EDITH GWYNN
HOLLYWOOD—Hal Wallis has just paid $25,000 for the film rights to "The File on Thelma Jordan" and he will star Barbara Stanwyck in it. Most of the story centers in a California courtroom.
The AFL through a big public relations firm is preparing a 25-minute color film for the use of schools and clubs. The theme of the film will be the labor group's accomplishments in a strike to make more friends for the union.
Peggy Cummins has an audience with the pope before she left Rome for London and her featured role with Myrna Loy in "The Case of Lady Brooke".
Greta Garbo, Clifton Webb and the Alan Yarns are back from their sojourn at Coronado. Clifton says he's "against" the American hotel plan from now on. He had all those good meals already paid for, then developed some tummy trouble and couldn't eat any of 'em.

Frankie Carle, the band-leader, has picked Patti Dugan as his new vocalist to replace his daughter Marjorie Hughes, who had been singing with her Pa's outfit — but had to give it up because of illness.
Virginia Mayo, who has been getting fine notices for dramatic performances lately, is about to do her first western. Raoul Walsh will direct it, and it's called "Colorado Bound". It will be filmed on a lavish scale — mostly around Santa Fe, N. M. No leading man yet — and they'll probably have to borrow one.
Shirley Nash (now married to John Shelton; Kathryn Grayson's ex) just had her nose bobbed and is gunning for a singing screen career.

Our British spy also reports that it's about set for John Wayne to go over there and star in "The Quiet Man" which John Ford will produce in Ireland. Maureen O'Hara and Victor McLaglen also have top roles. But the picture probably won't be made for several months, for Wayne is supposed to do "Alamo" or "Eagles in Exile" as soon as his current Action will be taken to insure adequate defense of civilians in cities should any national emergency arise. The committee will be concerned essentially with relationships among federal, state, and local governments on matters of civil defense, including the current recommendation that the national guard be placed under direct jurisdiction of the army. Fletcher Bowron, Los Angeles, association president, said.
